

'Phasing' English Teaching Method a 'Success'

By DON GRIERSON

An experimental "phasing" method of English teaching instituted at Capuchino High School last year has proved so successful the entire San Mateo Union High School District has adopted it as a pilot program.

Designed to "maximize the potential of each student and allow each to develop to the limits of his capacity," the program was originated by Mrs. Janet Murtaugh, chairman of the Capuchino English Department, as part of the district's "English master plan."

This year, all the other high schools in the district have halted work on their own pilot studies in order to sponsor complete development of the Capuchino project.

Under the "phased English curriculum," high school students are allowed maximum flexibility in selecting their own courses in the areas of grammar, speech, reading, composition and literature, and only two specific courses, reading and speech, are required of all students.

"For instance, students who demonstrate a high level of accomplishment in grammar are allowed to skip the grammar course, and select a more advanced course in an area of interest," Mrs. Murtaugh said.

One of the primary aims of the "phasing" method, according to its originator, is to increase the percentage of students who go on to college after completing the high school program.

"Through the new program, we are hoping to increase the percentage of college-oriented students from 50 per cent to about 75 per cent," Mrs. Murtaugh said.

The new program has also proved highly successful in aiding "problem readers" at the school.

Through a highly developed reading laboratory system utilized in the reading "phase," Capuchino teachers have found it possible to reduce the number of "problem readers" from 65 to about 12 out of 450 students.

"The key to our phasing system is the use of a sequential program of instruction instead of the traditional homogeneous grouping of students," Mrs. Murtaugh said.

"Instead of having students of varying capabilities attack all phases of communication at once, we allow each student an opportunity to pursue each aspect of his studies until he has mastered it," she said.

In addition to the conventional grading system, the Capuchino English Department is utilizing a system of "hurdles" to further evaluate the students.

It is possible for a student to miss the "hurdle" level at the end of a course, and still pass the course, according to Mrs. Murtaugh.

When this occurs, the student is allowed to pursue the subject course further, but avoids the stigma of "falling behind" in his work.

"We view the new program as a 'no reject' system," Mrs. Murtaugh said. "It is basically a success-oriented program."

In addition to aiding students who need to devote more time to the various phases of English studies, the Capuchino system is also highly beneficial to the "academically gifted."

Courses in advanced composition, more "sophisticated" literature and the humanities are open to students who successfully clear the "hurdles" of the more elementary phases of study before their senior year.

Youth 'Take Over' D.C.

The Youth - in Government-Week program will get under way today with students from Daly City's two high schools taking over the reigns of city government.

The program is sponsored jointly by the city and Chamber of Commerce to provide meaningful learning experience for youth in the workings of local government, Mayor Bernard Lyett explained.

First activity of the program will be an orientation meeting for the students at the Civic Center following a welcome by Mayor Lyett and City Manager Edward Frank.

During the orientation meeting, the youths will elect their own mayor who will serve during the Youth-in-Government Week activities.

On Thursday, the City and Chamber of Commerce will honor the students with a luncheon at International Joe's Restaurant.

During the week, students will spend four to six hours with their counterpart officials, learning the day to day routine of city government.

Highlight of the program will be the Youth Council Meeting at 8 p.m. on Monday, January 29 at the City Hall Council Chambers. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Students selected by the high schools to participate in the program are:

Jefferson High School: Leon Colvin (councilman), Jimmie Rance (councilman), Richard Rochetta (councilman), Wendy Wollery (city attorney), Diane Cortopassi (city engineer), John Spittler (city treasurer) and Dorothy Redmond (police chief).

Westmoor High School: Bill Puddy (councilman), Gregory Brewer (councilman), George Muller (city manager), Patricia Lynch (city clerk), Gary Abrams (director of finance), Russ Colunga (fire chief) and Patricia Eassa (city librarian).

Fire Flares In Wheelchair, Invalid Dies

An invalid San Bruno woman badly burned when her housecoat caught fire as she sat alone and helpless in a wheelchair at her home died Saturday at Peninsula Hospital.

Winifred Lukov, 53, suffered severe burns over most of her body, in what was described as a horrible accident, when she set herself on fire while trying to light a cigarette.

Mrs. Lukov was suffering from cancer and confined to a wheelchair.

Her husband had left the Berkshire Drive home around 9:30 a.m., Saturday to pick up a nurse for Mrs. Lukov.

Upon his return, some 30 minutes later, he discovered his wife sitting in the wheelchair with pieces of smoldering material still clinging to her back and legs.

San Bruno police said the fire must have started shortly after the husband left to pick up the nurse, and Mrs. Lukov sat helplessly as the fire consumed her clothing.

CITIZENS' PLANNING COMMITTEE REPORT

Development In Daly City

By FRANK LAPIERRE

A 15-member panel of Daly City citizens recently informed the city council they envisioned the development of Daly City "from the coastline to the Bayshore" and suggested immediate steps be taken to annex both the city of Brisbane and San Bruno Mountain.

The committee, charged by the city council with formulating ideas and recommendations for inclusion in the $105,000 General Plan now underway, pointed out that Daly City "could never become a community that creates employment equal to its labor force" and urged the city to make efforts to reduce this inequity.

One way to accomplish this goal would be the immediate annexation of land suitable for industrial development.

"In order to obtain land suitable for industrial development, Daly City should immediately make overtures to Brisbane for annexation... since vast areas within Brisbane are available for industrial development and are properly zoned," the committee report explained.

An "appealing and attractive offer" should likewise be presented to the Crocker Land Company "so they will desire annexation."

In the past, Brisbane has shied away from any talks on annexation, however, observers feel that city may be more receptive to such inquiries at this time primarily due to internal political strife. Brisbane city officials contacted would not comment on this matter.

The committee, headed by P. Evert Terminello, warned that Daly City must take "aggressive action" or the Crocker Company may satisfy its needs from the City of Brisbane and ignore annexation.

Aside from extensive studies of the Mission Street area, the subcommittee did not discuss the city's shopping centers, except to note they were "unquestionably successful" and further development of the centers should continue along the same lines as previously accomplished.

The committee briefly traced the history of the "Top of the Hill" area of Mission Street and recommended the Chamber of Commerce seek to gain the cooperation of the merchants there in a move to improve business.

"The need for off-street parking is immediate," the committee said, adding "Available parking is not being properly utilized; the merchants themselves compound the problem by using the parking facilities for their personal vehicles."

If sufficient parking was available for shoppers retail stores in the Mission Street area would remodel, the committee felt.

Garage-type operations on Mission Street should be avoided and the chamber should concentrate on attracting insurance companies, motels, office buildings and new car agencies, it was suggested.

The establishment of a Mission Street Merchants' Association, working in cooperation with the city and Chamber of Commerce, should be undertaken. This would assist in solving many problems now facing the area, the committee said.

Changes in South San Francisco

JAMES SARGEN, left, administrative assistant to South San Francisco's city manager for the past three years, was guest of honor at a city luncheon last week. Sargen has resigned from the city's administrative staff to accept a position in business. Presenting a commendation plaque at the farewell luncheon was City Manager Eugene Aiello, right.

LARRY ROSS, former evidence technician with the South San Francisco Police Department, has been appointed administrative assistant to City Manager Eugene Aiello. Ross assumed his new duties today, replacing James Sargen, who resigned from the post to enter private business.

Supervisors

Close Case On 'Framing'

Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald's human relations study committee stamped "Case Closed" Jan. 13, on the incident involving charges by a Daly City preacher that four young robbery suspects were "framed" by Daly City police.

The Rev. Howard A. Bryant, who met with Fitzgerald in Redwood City last week, was told by the supervisor that the police department felt the charges had done "irreparable damage."

Bryant said he had considered trying to "clarify" his statement but decided not to say anything and let the matter drop.

Also attending the meeting, called by Fitzgerald, were Harry Bremond and George Riley, chairman and executive director of the County Human Resources Commission, and Chief Deputy District Attorney Robert E. Carey.

At the outset, Bremond asked if the meeting could be off the record because of Bryant's desire not to fan the flames any (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

The County Human Resources Commission, meeting at Daly City's Jefferson High School on January 11, gave conditional approval to submission of reports needed for refunding several programs.

The Commission also appointed George Riley as executive director.

Riley has been with the HRC since June 1966 and was Provisional Director following the resignation of Director Robert Hine last year.

Included in the programs were Human Resources Commission staff report ($99,090); Outreach and Community Organization ($41,649); East Palo Alto-East Menlo Park Info. Center ($73,014); Redwood City Info. Probe Center ($53,903); San Mateo Info. Center ($46,753) and the Daly City Info. Center ($36,465).

The reports will be submitted to the Office of Economic Opportunity in San Francisco complete with aims of each agency and a breakdown of the budget for various positions, Riley told the Commission.

Riley said his offices were now attempting to develop programs with special emphasis on (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Mrs. Winona Kendrick of 419 Bellevue Avenue, Daly City, the March of Dimes chairman for the Daly City area, disclosed today an unprecedented lag in recruitment of volunteers to canvass the region for funds.

Women, men or teen-agers interested in contributing their time in various sections of Daly City should contact Mrs. Kendrick.

S.S.F. Seeks Park Bids

Plans and specifications for a new city park in South San Francisco were approved Monday, and the council authorized Public Works Director Louis Coss to advertise for bids on the project.

To be known as Martin Park, the new recreation area is located on Hillside Boulevard adjacent to the Martin School.

The park will be developed at an estimated cost of $17,479, and will cover approximately three-fourths of an acre. The small park is designed for neighborhood use, councilmen said.

Planned improvements include clearing, lighting, filling and excavation, drainage improvements, fencing and a driveway.

Authorities Still Seek Two Others

Daly City detectives, led by Captain Richard Sims, have solved the "mystery shooting" of a 23-year-old San Francisco man who staggered into Mary's Help Hospital last week with a gun shot wound of the mouth.

Sims said he and a team of detectives had been "working around the clock" since the shooting of George Pastras occurred Sunday afternoon, January 7.

Arrested on Monday and charged with assault with intent to commit murder was Pedro Fernandez, 34, of York Street, San Francisco.

Two other suspects in the shooting — John Fernandez, 30, and Theodore Gaveloo, 28, former residents of 358 Hillside Boulevard in Daly City — are still at large and bulletins have been issued for their arrest, Sims said.

According to Sims, the shooting took place "sometime around 2 p.m." at the Hillside home of John Fernandez following a heated four-way argument.

Details surrounding the shooting, and who actually fired the shot that hit Pastras in the mouth critically wounding him, were still "fuzzy," Sims said.

"Our investigation of the incident is continuing, but we are somewhat hampered because of the victim's present inability to speak," Sims said.

Pastras, whose last known address was a hotel on Twenty-fifth Street in San Francisco, staggered into the emergency ward of the hospital shortly before 3 p.m. on the day of the shooting and collapsed.

He lapsed into unconsciousness following surgery and po (Please See Page 2, Column 3) business areas should be treated separately, although both areas — considered to be vital centers of activity — are being confronted with similar problems.

In recent months several stores have closed in the Mission Street "top of the hill" area and business has dropped off drastically, some businessmen report.

Another essential part of the city's future development is the construction of high-rise apartments in the area of the proposed BART station on Knowles Avenue, along with ample open space.

"This development should be of a type similar to Park Merced or the Golden Gateway (San Francisco developments)," committee members reported.

In the southern section of the city, bounded by San Pedro Road, El Camino Real, Mary's Help Hospital and cemetery lands, commercial and light industry should be encouraged.

"Traffic patterns set by the freeway, San Pedro Road and El Camino Real, and the ultimate usage of the Southern Pacific Railway's right-of-way, would determine the highest and best use for this area," the report explained.

Geneva Avenue with its huge Cow Palace exhibition hall creates special problems, the committee stated.

"Traffic congestion in the vicinity of Schwerin Street causes retail trade to suffer . . . and when the Cow Palace is in use the condition becomes very serious to the point of danger to pedestrians as well as the paralysis of retail trade," it was reported.

Daly City receives no revenue from the Cow Palace and inasmuch as the exhibition hall is a commercial enterprise (with wrestling, basketball, and other functions for which it was originally not intended), the committee recommended a move be made to secure a share of these revenues.

The committee, made up of some of the city's leading businessmen, including Helen Staub (secretary), Bill Counts, Tom P. Coyne, Richard Dwyer, Don Halvorson, Jack Kendree, George Kirchubel, Peter J. Markovich, Elton McGraw, Gerry Rough, Tom Stranghellini, Elmer V. Venturini, Percy Williams and A. Buck Zweig, said Daly City must gear its future planning and development toward continued population and business growth "with the objectives of . . . becoming economically self-sufficient."

"personal attention" to the needs of the poor.

He asked "are we really eliminating poverty and helping to solve their (the poor's) own problems?"

In an effort to guide the HRC, Riley said the proposed "Out-reach" program is the most significant undertaking in the coming year for the program.

Chairman Harry B. Bremend asked Riley if a target date of April for a report on the success of such a venture could be expected, however, the new director said it would be "extremely difficult" to be pinned to an exact date at this time.

In an appearance before the Commission last week, Julius Castelans, long-time resident of Daly City and president of the D. C. Senior Citizens, accused the HRC information agency in Daly City of not using Spanish speaking people in paid positions in the local office.

He said the ethnic breakdown of the area showed a 4-1 rate of Spanish speaking people over other groups "yet there is poor representation of Spanish speaking people working in the local office."

Information Center Director Rev. Howard Bryant disputed the accusations and informed the Commission a breakdown of the 12 persons on the agency council showed two Spanish-speaking representatives, including Castelans "who has missed the last four meetings."

Bryant said there were no Spanish-speaking persons in "paid" positions on the Daly City staff, however the Center had contacted no less than 45 Spanish-speaking persons since its establishment several months ago.

"This is proof we are serving all the people," Bryant said.

Chairman Bremend instructed Director Riley to get together with the Daly City Center staff and Castelans to study the matter further.

MRS. MARGARET ALPHIN will be inducted President of the Lioness Club of Daly City-Colma, Saturday, January 20, at the Lakeside Country Club. Mrs. Alphin, the wife of George Alphin, an executive of the Daly City Water Department, succeeds Mrs. Trudy Scanlon.

Lioness Club Will Install On Saturday

The Lioness Club of Daly City-Colma holds its annual installation dinner at 6:30 p.m., Saturday, January 20, at the Olympic Club's Lakeside Country Club on Skyline Boulevard.

Mrs. Trudy Scanlon, outgoing president of the Lioness Club, composed of wives of the Daly City-Colma Lions Club, said 1968 officers are Margaret Alphin, president; Gladys Neville, vice president; Nonda Stewart, recording secretary; Carol Smith, corresponding secretary, and Anne Ingersoll, treasurer.

Lion John Putkey will be the installing officer, and past president Joe Mottola will distribute trophies to the seven past presidents of the Lioness Club.

Mrs. Alphin, newly elected president, is the wife of George Alphin, an executive of the Daly City Water Department, who presently serves as Tail Twister for the Daly City Lions.

Gladys Neville's husband is Ira Neville, secretary of the Daly City-Colma Lions and affectionately known as "Mr. Lionism" by Peninsula and San Francisco clubs. Carol Smith's husband is a Westlake bank official, and Nonda Stewart is the wife of Mr. Robert Stewart, a board member of the Daly City Lions and an official of the White Lumber Company in Daly City.

The new treasurer, Ann Ingersoll, is the wife of Lyell Ingersoll, prominent in Daly City civic and school affairs. She has held most every post of importance in the Lioness Club prior to accepting the treasury office.

Mrs. Scanlon said, "my tenure of office with the Lioness Club has been a rewarding experience and any successes or accomplishments are directly traceable to the wonderful counsel and loyalty given to me by officers and board members."

lice have been unable to talk to him.

The victim refused to cooperate with police immediately following reports of the incident; however an intensive investigation led police to the three acquaintances of Pastras, and warrants were issued for their arrest last Friday.

Pedro Fernandez phoned Sims Monday said he was "tired of running" and surrendered himself to police, they said.

Driver Impaled On Rail

A young San Jose sailor, impaled in the wreckage of his car by a metal fence rail through his chest, died in South San Francisco last Thursday before he could be freed.

The victim was Timothy Thomas Avilla, 19, a Navy cook stationed aboard the carrier USS Hancock.

An acetylene torch was used to cut the two-inch steel pipe that had thrust through the windshield and held the unconscious victim in the driving position.

Fire broke out several times while the work proceeded and officers, who used hand extinguishers on the fires, praised the courage of Al Uribe, owner of Al's Body Shop in South San Francisco. Uribe, who was using the cutting torch, stuck to his work despite the danger of the fires, officers said.

Highway Patrolmen M. C. Raun and Robert Deshaies said the accident happened at 12:55 a.m. on Bayshore Freeway beneath the California Avenue pedestrian overcrossing.

A witness said the sailor's old-model sedan was going an estimated 65 miles an hour when it veered off of the road without slackening speed. The officers said Avilla probably fell asleep at the wheel.

The pipe came through the windshield, the patrolmen reported, pierced the sailor's chest on the right side, passed through his body and then through the back of the front seat.

further. Fitzgerald said no. Two reporters were present.

Fitzgerald read a report from Carey giving the official version of the case. It was explained that the robbery charges had been dismissed because the victims said they could not identify the suspects but that the charges were re-filed again when the victims realized that they could make the identifications, after all. Bryant charged at a public meeting on the day the charges were dismissed that the suspects had been "framed" because they had spoken out against "police harassment." Deputy District Attorney John E. Juergens said the minister's statement provided the impetus that led to re-filing the charges.

At the meeting last week Bremend, referring to the statement made by Juergens, commented that there was a "lesson" in the dispute for all parties. There was general agreement that the incident pointed up the need for a human relations commission in the county.

Subsequently, Fitzgerald reported on the meeting to his study group and it was agreed to close the case.

Ribera Heads Parks Board

Ernest J. Ribera of Pacifica was elected chairman of the San Mateo County Parks and Recreation Commission at last week's monthly meeting, succeeding Albert F. Rfaff of San Carlos.

Also elected to posts for the coming year were Arthur M. Ryan of Burlingame, vice-chairman, and Clark Congden of Menlo Park, secretary.

Ribera is principal of Jefferson High School in Daly City.

Heads Milk Union Here For 22 Years

Daly City Councilman Edward J. Dennis was recently re-elected to another three-year term as president of the Milk Drivers and Dairy Employees' Union of San Francisco and San Mateo counties.

Dennis will mark the start of his twenty-second year as head of the union next week — a full-time position.

"The Milk Drivers' Union, with a membership of 1,200, has an excellent record of progress since it was first organized in October, 1903," Dennis said following the re-election. "All wage gains and working conditions have been achieved without any work stoppage during our 64-year history."

Daly City's Population Now 65,233

Daly City's official population is now 65,233 — an increase of 4,733 over the estimated 1960 figure.

The new population figure announced by the State Department of Finance yesterday will mean an approximate $40,000 jump in annual revenues received from the State.

In 1950, the city's population was 15,191, Daly City mayor Bernard Lycett noted.

A special census was recently completed in the city and information collected analyzed using a new system of computer processing by the State.

Stonegate Ridge District In Black or In the Red?

Is the Stonegate Ridge Assessment District financially insolvent?

The question arose at Monday's South San Francisco council meeting after Dan Coleman Associates, engineers for the $847,000 project, and the California Water Service Co., one of the principal contractors, presented conflicting figures on estimated cost of water main and fire hydrant installation.

Dominic J. Selmi, a representative of the engineering firm, presented figures to the council which indicated the district currently has $20,168 in reserve funds for slope seeding, water tank site acquisition and maintenance.

However, a California Water Service Co., spokesman, C. H. Stump, told councilmen actual costs to his firm for work performed in the district has exceeded estimates by $20,487, and an estimated $7,850 in additional work must still be performed.

If both figures are allowed to stand, a supplemental assessment for the district could prove necessary, according to City Attorney John Noonan.

However, Selmi said Monday he feels some of the extra expense incurred by the water company in the course of construction "must be borne by the contractor, and not the district."

"Such items as the retamping of slopes and realignment of water mains and hydrants, in my opinion, be charged to the district," he said.

Also, the district is due to receive a refund of approximately $4,000 from the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., as soon as service is installed, and some additional funds are expected from interest on bank deposits, according to Selmi.

Mayor Patrick Ahern and members of the council instructed representatives from the two firms to meet and "attempt to reconcile the figures," and report back to the council at a later date.

In a related matter, the council voted to approve payment of claims totalling about $3,000 to the Lowrie Paving Co., for work on the Stonegate Ridge Project.

While accepting the work for purposes of payment, the council stipulated that maintenance must be assumed by the assessment district, and not the city.

Math, Science Students Vie

Ninety-eight math and science students from Bay Area high schools competing in this year's Engineers' Week scholarship program have been named.

The $4,200 scholarship program in eight counties of the Bay Area is intended to encourage students to pursue careers in engineering. Top award is $1,000. The program is supported and funded by engineering and technical societies and many industrial and engineering firms.

Engineers' Week this year is February 18-24. The annual event has been observed nationally since 1951 and locally since 1955. Its purpose is to increase public awareness of the professional engineers' contributions toward solutions of environmental problems and to encourage and counsel high school students on engineering careers.

Competing students' names were announced by E. H. Lynch, of the Chevron Research Company in Richmond, who is chairman of the Bay Area Engineers' Week scholarship committee.

Lynch said ten finalists among the contestants will be selected later this month, with winners to be announced at the Engineers' Week banquet at the Sheraton-Palace hotel February 20.

Students from North County schools contending for the awards are:

Colma: Domenic Martini, 430 D street, Jefferson High.

Daly City: Christine Gall Dill-lon, 422 Winchester Street, St. John Ursuline High; Donald R. Weiden, 33 Westdale Avenue, Westmoor High.

Pacific: Randall Barnhart, 1394 Adobe Drive, Terra Nova High; James MacDonald Boudinot, 363 Bancroft Way, Oceana High.

San Bruno: Kevin L. O'Brien, 2291 Evergreen Drive, Crestmoor High; John Randolph Sbardori, 568 Oak Avenue, Capuchino High.

South San Francisco: Michael Raymond Hennig, 335 Valencia Drive, South San Francisco High; Steven P. Jones, 34 Clara Avenue, El Camino High; Cristina Anna Recto, 2230 Shannon Drive, Notre Dame High.

Engineers Elect Wallis

Pacific-Councilman Rick Wallis has been selected by the San Francisco section board of directors of the American Society of Civil Engineers to serve on a newly created urban planning and development technical group.

Wallis, a civil engineer, was a member of an eight-man committee selected from engineering organizations in the Bay Area that organized and programmed a seminar on planning for civil engineers and land surveyors that was a week-long session at Pacific Grove in 1967.

$18,000 Fund Donated To Yule Bureau

Though short of its goal, leaving many requests unanswered, the 1967 Community Christmas drive was able to relieve acute hardships of hundreds of families and other persons known to the health and welfare agencies.

A total of over $18,000 was realized through the drive, with $6,200 in donations to the Community Christmas Bureau's branch in East Palo Alto, $200 to the Pacific branch, and $12,054 to headquarters in the Naval Reserve Training Center, San Mateo.

Bureau chairman Mrs. Ron Schultz also reported that over 1,500 families, including some 5,600 children were helped by the drive, among these 817 families in East Palo Alto, 125 in the coast-side area, and over 600 in mid-and north county. In addition, hundreds of elderly folk in health, boarding, and private homes were assisted.

Mrs. Schultz pointed out that there was a large increase in hardship cases this past year which placed a greater burden on the Bureau. "Unfortunately, in spite of our efforts, the drive didn't bring in quite enough money to help all of these people," she said.

The Community Christmas Bureau is the official referral and distribution center for Christmas giving in the county to persons known to the health and welfare agencies. Functioning under a year-round community Christmas Committee, it is endorsed by the County Board of Supervisors and a project of the Volunteer Bureau.

Jeff's 'Lock-Step' Requirement For Teachers Remains Intact

Jefferson Elementary School District trustees declined to act upon Supt. Frank Greenwood's recommendation to abolish the district's "lock-step", continuing-education requirement for teachers January 9.

Greenwood had recommended that the policy, which requires teachers to acquire six hours of college credit every four years in order to obtain their salary increment, be abandoned "as a gesture of good faith."

"Besides, it is unnecessary, since the district principals can incorporate the same criterion into their evaluation of teachers," the superintendent said.

Negotiating council representative Denis O'Leary had also urged the board to abandon the "lock-step" arrangement "and begin to treat the teachers like competent professionals."

But board chairman Thomas Noonan and the other trustees indicated there was a need for the requirement when it was instituted in the district 10 years ago, "and if the requirements were eliminated, then the need might again manifest itself."

Noonan said about five percent of the district's teachers failed to keep up their professional advancement before the rule was adopted.

Since the "lock-step" requirement was inaugurated, there has not been a single case when a teacher failed to upgrade, according to Asst. Supt. Dr. Vincent Stratton.

"It is this board's duty to guarantee to the public that district teachers will maintain a high level of professionalism," Noonan said. "I personally don't believe the superintendent's recommendation would work out."

Noonan also pointed out that the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association concurred with the board's decision in adopting the original requirement 10 years ago.

Greenwood's recommendation died for lack of a motion.

On another matter which has been pending before the board for several months, the trustees and JCTA officials reached a measure of accord.

When the new pay schedule was approved this year, there was apparently some ambiguity regarding method of distributing the pay raise.

The board said, in different instances, that the new pay schedule would range from $8,100 to $12,000 per year, and also that each teacher in the district would receive a raise of either $290 or $390 per year.

However, about 150 teachers were receiving $280 or $380 raises prior to this week "because of an error in last year's salary schedules."

Though this pay scale coincided with the approved $8,100-$12,000 salary schedule, most of the teachers were under the impression they would receive the much-discussed $290 and $390 raises, O'Leary said.

After a lengthy discussion, O'Leary and JCTA President Marilyn Harris told the trustees they would "just drop the whole matter, in view of all the administrative difficulties involved in rectifying it."

But the board voted to award the extra $10 for the current year after hearing the teachers' offer, with only Trustee George Perry opposing the move.

"This looks to me like a gift of public funds," Perry said, "and what this motion does is perpetuate an error made last year."

Bruno Chamber To Seat Officers

The San Bruno Chamber of Commerce will seat its new officers January 27 at the Green Hills Country Club when members met for their 18th annual installation dinner.

The board of directors of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce have re-elected William Schneider to a third term as president.

Schneider, manager of Fairway Leasing in San Bruno, has served as president of the local Chamber of Commerce for two previous terms during 1966 and 1967.

Elected along with Schneider were John A. Pierce of Key Pharmacy as vice president, and George R. Corey, Bible and Corey Attorneys, as treasurer.

Judge F. Jose De Larios will be the guest installing officer.

Also elected during the board's meeting to a vacant directors position was Stan van der Hule, manager of Eureka Federal Savings and Loan Association. President Schneider presented certificates of merit to former board of directors who served during the past year. Those present at the meeting to receive their recognition were C. A. Ehmann, Bank of America; William Hagen, Hagen's Women's Wear; and Harlan Mowbray, former manager of Eureka Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Certificates were also sent to Mrs. Lois Baker, Ben Franklin Stores; Oscar Lopez-Guerra, Bankers' Life of Nebraska Insurance; Herbert Rodricks, Circus Floors; Leonard Frost, Frost's Paint and Glass; and John Bacon, San Bruno Lumber Company.

Big Family 'Keeps People In Poverty'

There is a definite correlation between poverty and the size of a family, Mrs. Audrey Brown, planned parenthood expert, told the Human Resources Commission last week.

"We have found that the size of a family keeps people in poverty — and also their children," Mrs. Brown reported during a regular meeting of the HRC at Jefferson High School in Daly City.

In her proposal for a family planning program, part of the Planned Parenthood Association of San Mateo County, Mrs. Brown said she felt the proposed project would help to bring relief "to one of the contributing factors of poverty and problems related to poverty."

It will likewise enhance and improve family health happiness and economical status of low-income and welfare families in the community, she said.

"Many reasons have been advanced to explain why low-income families have been slow to adopt birth control methods and the most important seems to be that they have not had access to the necessary information, training and supplies," Mrs. Brown explained.

The proposed project, once under way, will make the necessary information, training and supplies available to the low-income and welfare families in the community.

This availability will cause a reversal of many of the social ills, in addition to providing help aimed at improving health problems of individual families, she said.

The purpose of the proposed program is to provide birth control information and services to 3,000 patients out of a potential 23,000 mothers in the community. This will be accomplished by education and referral at Public Health Center clinics.

Mrs. Brown noted the "prosperous" have long been able to use birth control to improve family health and economic status and the new project would make it possible for "all the people in our community" to take advantage of medical knowledge which is available in this field today.

With the aid of large charts, Mrs. Brown showed the connection between large families and percentages of children completing high school from these families.

The better a family's economic status, the higher the percentage of children completing high school, it was revealed.

Commission member Dr. Julio Bortolazzo commented this percentage would be drastically lower at the college level, "perhaps only 5 per cent completing college."

A nationwide program of Planned Parenthood is well under way, Mrs. Brown said, adding it was meeting with considerable success in many areas.

Dyer Faces Court Trial

Lillard (Tex) Dyer, suspended from his duties as police chief of Brisbane, was arraigned in Superior Court in Redwood City last week on an embezzlement indictment.

At the request of Dyer's attorney, Thomas L. Bocci, Judge Melvin E. Cohn continued the case to January 25 for plea. Bocci indicated that he will make a motion at that time to quash the indictment. He asked for the postponement to give him more time to study the Grand Jury transcript.

Dyer, 39, the father of eight children, is accused of pocketing cash paid over the police department counter for copies of accident reports. He is also charged with taking money paid by officers of his department for shoulder patches.

In addition to the felony indictment, the jury returned an accusation against Dyer, a legal device intended to cause his permanent removal from office.

RENOVATING UNDERWAY — San Mateo County workmen are changing the interior looks of the Old City Hall on Wellington Avenue to make way for a branch of the Municipal Court scheduled to begin operations next month. Estimated costs of the renovation will not exceed $14,000, according to County Building Director Henry Tarratt. These costs will be applied to the monthly rental charge of the building, agreed upon last month between the county and the Daly City. (Post Photo)

Fourteen men and five women were selected for the 1968 San Mateo County Grand Jury this morning.

Reisch Quits Pacifica To Become Judge

Conrad Reisch, Pacifica's City Attorney since 1960, formally and "with reluctance" resigned his post Wednesday night, effective February 6, the date he becomes a San Mateo County Superior Court judge.

Reisch, who is also Brisbane's City Attorney, noted he "feels a part of the city" and will continue to "have a high regard for Pacifica and its citizens."

Councilmen accept the resignation with "regret and reluctance."

In other business Wednesday, the Council:

—Referred to a forthcoming study session for review of off-street parking requirements.

—Held over until next Wednesday an appeal by Paul Markling, relative to the Planning Commission's decision to grant a use permit to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints for a church.

—Held over, pending comments from the County Health officer, a "permissive" animal ordinance.

—Delayed action on a resolution accepting the landscaping of the Fairmont West Park.

Month of 'Brotherhood' Is Set Aside by Temple

"Everyone else spends a week a year for brotherhood; we're going to spend a month," says Leonard Wasserstein, a member of the board of Temple Judea near Daly City.

Judea will not be alone in its celebrations. It is part of a complex of churches and lay organizations on Brotherhood Way, near the Daly City border of the city: St. Thomas More Catholic Church, United Church of Christ, Greek Orthodox church, and a Jewish Community Center.

All are there in fulfillment of a dream first conceived by Abe Rabinowitch, Bert Silver, Dr. Sanford Marcus and Judge Charles Becker, and successfully concluded with the help of the Greek Orthodox Church, so Wasserstein says.

Realizing that many worthy religious groups lack the money to buy land for their needed buildings, they approached the city's board of supervisors in 1957 to suggest that they sell the unused land on Stanley Drive, as it was then called, to religious groups for a nominal price.

The supervisors agreed and the land was snapped up by the churches.

Even before most of the buildings were finished, the president of Temple Judea, Judge Charles Becker of South San Francisco, realized what was to come and convinced other buyers on Stanley Drive that the name should be changed to Brotherhood Way.

At first the supervisors balked, feeling that the awkwardness of the name change.

Youth Sunday Activities In Broadmoor

Youth Sunday is to be observed Sunday at the 9:15 and 11 a.m. services at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377-87th Street, Daly City.

Young people will usher and assist in the worship services. The pastor, Rev. Herbert Tweedie, will preach on the subject, "A Worthy Manner of Life."

Youth participation is drawn from the 9:15 a.m. high school Bible class taught by Bill Rae and the 7 p.m. Sunday High School Fellowship advised by Dorothy Spratt and Eunice Brabec.

Also, junior high youth are in the 9:15 class taught by Greg Lum and Patsy Baker and the 11 o'clock class led by Virginia Maches.

High School and Junior High Basketball teams will begin play in the church League of the San Francisco Council of Churches Monday and Tuesday nights as coached by Eugene Amato and Kevin Burke.

A general announcement is that of the Annual Area Ecumenical Worship Service held January 21, at 4:30 p.m. in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium.

Clergy of Roman Catholic, Eastern Orthodox and Protestant Churches will be in the processional in ecclesiastical attire.

Bishop James Shannon of Minneapolis will speak. At 4 o'clock an organ concert will be given by Richard Purvis, organist of Grace Cathedral.

Our Redeemer's Plans Annual Church Meeting

Our Redeemer's Lutheran congregation will meet for its annual meeting Sunday.

Plans for the new year, 1968, will be outlined by the Council. A new building for fellowship suppers and classrooms is being completed.

Reports will be read by the pastor, intern, president of the congregation, Sunday School superintendent, president of the Lutheran Church Women, and by the various youth organizations.

Walter Johnson, chairman of the Church Council, will preside.

Lyle Gibson, Pete DiPietro, Charles Hansen, and Walter Johnson have completed three years as councilmen and will be replaced by election of four other members.

Pondorosa 'Turnabout'

"Turnabout Night" will highlight the January 17 meeting of the Pondorosa P-TA at 8 p.m. in South San Francisco.

This is an annual event, when husbands take over their wives' P-TA offices. Bernard Mooney will conduct activities.

Following along these lines the program will consist of Family Sports night, with Tom Teshara giving a talk and showing a film on baseball. Also as a guest speaker will be David Freeman, physical education instructor and ninth grade basketball coach at Southwood Junior High School who will explain the physical education and sports program for seventh graders entering Southwood.

calling as it did new street signs, maps, and the probability of many people losing their way in the first months, weighed more heavily than the symbolic value of the new name.

But Judge Becker insisted that the ability of the resident groups to band together on policy and activities as "the churches of Brotherhood Way" over-rode any other consideration. Final approval came during the term of George Christopher and a number of people in his administration deserve a great deal of credit for their understanding and cooperation. In 1958, the name of Stanley Drive was officially changed to Brotherhood Way.

As the buildings began to rise, the organizations realized that they were going to need street lighting, municipal transportation, and a sidewalk extension. This was their first venture into co-operative action.

It was followed by continuing aid to each other, perhaps best exemplified by the relation between Judea and St. Thomas More. St. Thomas More has a school building, many of whose classrooms are empty on Sunday.

Judea's Sunday School membership has risen sharply in the high school grades. So St. Thomas More lets Judea hold classes in its building on Sunday, rent-free, and in return Judea is building a special religious chest, made to order, for St. Thomas.

In 1966 a San Francisco Symphony concert was held, sponsored by all the tenants on Brotherhood Way. And now, ten years after the change of name, the first Brotherhood month will be held on Brotherhood Way.

While dates have not yet been finalized for most of the activities, Wasserstein has a long list of definite and nearly definite plans for late-January through early February.

Artifacts from all religious groups will be exhibited at the Emporium in nearby Stonestown; speakers have been invited, including the Israeli Consul-General Gideon Saguy, Senator Mark Hatfield of Oregon, and Al Vorspan, national social action director of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations; the Judea sisterhood will host members of a nearby convent for a session of art and prayer conducted by the nuns, and attended by members of neighborhood Church groups; joint panels on religion and society are being planned. The dreams and dedication of a few are reaching fruition; Brotherhood Way is an actuality.

D.C. Youths Nab Fleeing Suspects

Three young Daly City men apprehended a trio of burglary suspects early Wednesday morning after an automobile chase down busy Mission Street.

Police said William Crawford, Paul Simoncini and Ronald Delino observed two men and two women removing household goods from a vacant residence at 68 Fourney Street.

The youths became suspicious and asked the suspects what they were doing. They were told the owner had given them permission to take the items, however, young Crawford decided to check with homeowner C. Sola, who resided nearby, and was told no such permission had been given.

As Sola and the youth revisited the scene, the four suspects jumped into two waiting cars and sped away.

Aided by police officers James McHenry and John Cahill, summoned to the residence by other suspicious neighbors, the youths succeeded in stopping one of the suspects' cars at the intersection of Mission and Evergreen streets.

Pacifica's Council Goes On Record Against Tax

The City of Pacifica will go on record as formally objecting to San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto's proposal that commuters pay a special commuter's tax.

The council unanimously directed that a simple resolution, citing the city's opposition to Alioto's proposal, be forwarded to the San Francisco Mayor.

Appearing before the council Wednesday night, William Feeney sought clarification of news reports in The Times that Pacifica's representatives to the Council of Mayors of San Mateo County had voted against a resolution opposing the tax plan.

Mayor Grace McCarthy, who cast Pacifica's ballot on the resolution two weeks ago, explained that hers was among six negative votes because of the "tone" of the resolution.

Feeney said he "understands" the reason, but didn't agree with the mayor.

Mrs. McCarthy then went on to explain that she, and others on the Pacifica council whom she had contacted informally beforehand, felt as did some other mayors that the resolution wording was "too strong."

This was especially so in her mind, Mrs. McCarthy said, because Mayor Alioto has been invited to meet with the group to advance his proposal in more detail.

She said she thought Alioto should be heard before he was so strongly rebuffed.

Pacifica's vote would have been "yes" had the mayors' resolution been merely a general, presumably toned-down statement of objection, Mrs. McCarthy explained to Feeney and others in the Pacifica council chambers.

The mayors' resolution was adopted on a seven to six vote.

Daly City, South San Francisco, Portola Valley, Menlo Park, Millbrae, Burlingame and San Mateo voted for the resolution, but Pacifica, Colma, Brisbane, Belmont, Redwood City and San Carlos cast negative votes.

The resolution charged that the "urgency of local government to develop sources of revenue other than the property tax with which to meet increasing demands for services" has forced the "imprudent adoption of an income tax by some governing bodies of some eastern cities."

"... This Council of Mayors, representing the cities of the County of San Mateo, ... counsel against any act by the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco which would attempt to single out the wage earner and extract from him a charge for services rendered alike to him, tourists and non-wage earning citizen whether residents or non-residents; and second, warn that if the Bay Area community is to be segregated, if mobility is to be penalized by one, it will be incumbent upon the cities hereby represented to consider similar charges for services and taxes upon earnings."

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Small cavities in the teeth can be filled more easily and with less discomfort than large ones. If decay is neglected it leads to infection and abscess formation. An infected tooth is a hazard to good health and often must be removed. A tooth that has been lost should be replaced by an artificial one. If it is not, the other teeth will shift. This shifting may lead to more decay and to diseases of the gums. Irregular placement of the teeth should be corrected for many reasons: To improve appearance, speech, and the ability to chew foods and to help prevent other dental diseases. Have your dentist check for cavities and follow his recommendations if treatment is needed.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth. Dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By DONALD C. WAITE

HOW IMPORTANT IS YOUR FURNITURE?

Next to buying your own home, your purchase of furniture is probably the most important item you will ever buy.

Your furnishings reflect your way of life. Actually, they are your way of living. There is an old saying that

"A home is a place for a man to hang his hat, but for a woman it is her very life." And like many old sayings it is completely false.

The home is for every member of the family and it should be furnished accordingly. It is an important part of the atmosphere in which your children are being raised. It affects the mental health of the entire family by influencing everyone's attitude toward the daily routine of life.

Knowing that your furniture selection is of such importance, buying furniture is actually an emotional experience for many people.

It's a good idea to discuss your family's furniture needs with an experienced furniture counselor, and we stand ready to help you. Come in and talk over your furnishing needs. Remember, there is no obligation.

Troubadors To Perform For Elderly

A CAST of 105 singers and dancers, including (left to right) Lisa Cuneo, Debbie Piccolotti and Corinne Schoepf, all of Daly City, will perform at the Hebrew Home for the Aged.

Elderly men and women who reside at the Hebrew Home for the Aged, 302 Silver Avenue, San Francisco, will be entertained by The Troubadors, at 2 p.m., January 21.

The Troubadors, students of the St. Francis Heights Dance & Music Guild, 405 Lakeshire Drive, Daly City, is a group of 105 singers and dancers who devote much of their time and talent in bringing free entertainment to San Mateo and San Francisco hospitals and institutions whose patients are bed-ridden or find it difficult to go outside for entertainment or diversion.

Mrs. Trudy Scanlon said the Hebrew Home for the Aged had requested a stage performance during the Christmas holidays.

She said The Troubadors were booked solid at the time the request came through but agreed to perform their 60-minute "Say It With Music" stage show after the New Year.

"Every year for the past five years we've done a Thanksgiving or Christmas season performance for the Hebrew Home for the Aged," Mrs. Scanlon said, "and we have no intention of disappointing these elderly people now — except we're a little tardy, this year."

Mardi Gras Show

Members of the Altar Rosary Sodality are being reminded that tonight is the deadline to return money and-or tickets for the "Come to the Mardi Gras" fashion show slated for February 24.

According to Mrs. Terry Murphy, reservations will be available from Mrs. Belinda Byrne, 755-7641. Tickets, which entitle holders to cocktails, luncheon, a fashion and wig show as well as many door prizes, are available to those donating $5 to the school building fund.

IF YOU ARE CLEANING out closets and cupboards to make room for all those lovely new things you received during the holidays, don't just throw the overflow away, contribute it to one of the spring rummage sales which are now in the offing.

The first group to report that it is collecting miscellany for a rummage sale is the Pacifica Federated Women's Club. Mrs. Eva Morton, club president, announced she will begin picking up bric-a-brac, appliances and clothing. Persons interested in contributing are asked to call 355-5145. The unit will stage the sale in February.

The Federated Women's Clubs of America have a very fine reputation as civic-minded units and women living in Pacifica who feel that they might enjoy the fellowship and work carried on by such a group are urged to contact Mrs. Rose Lazzaro, 359-1982 or 359-6111, for more information.

February 20 will be the date of a special invitation to prospective members, according to Mrs. Morton, and all interested persons are invited to come to the Terra Nova High School at 8 p.m. on that date.

DALY CITY had a fine, young, unofficial representative at the recent installation of San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto! Greg Adams, trumpeter with the Westmoor High School stage band, performed, along with other members of the Youth of America group, during the official ceremonies.

Tomorrow will be a red letter one for a number of Westmoor's students as the Tri-M, the National Honorary Music Society, will initiate several new members who have met the requirements in leadership, scholarship and musicianship.

Parents will be welcome to the rites which get under way at 2:45 p.m. in the Westmoor High School band room with Tri-M President Mike Hinton presiding. A special feature of the ceremony will be the appearance of the Norman Williams Quintette.

THE DALY CITY BRANCH of the Friends of the Library will hear member-literary expert Mrs. Albert Drain speak on enjoyment of the library's collection of favorites when that group convenes for the regular monthly review in the Coral Room of the Westlake Branch of the Daly City Library on January 25.

Mrs. Lincoln Walters will greet members and guests at 10 a.m. and Mrs. William Casburn will be hostess during the coffee hour which will proceed the meeting.

Mrs. William Roay, program chairman, will introduce the speaker of the day.

According to Mrs. Alvin Richter, Mrs. Drain is a member of the faculty of the University of San Francisco where she is currently teaching Introductory Studies in Drama. She plans to re-acquaint members with some of the older books in the library which have retained their value and which warrant re-reading. Among those selections she plans to comment upon are the "Treasure of the Sierra Madre," "The Pawn Broker," "All in the Family" and "Giles Goatboy."

MRS. NAN SCARPINO and Mrs. Nardine Spadaro, co-chairmen of hostesses for the February fashion show being planned by the members of the Holy Angels' Women's Guild, have named their hostesses and junior hostesses.

Mrs. Mary Nightingale said that among those who will be greeting the guests are Mrs. Cathy Barrant, Mrs. Doloris Callagy, Mrs. Betty Camous, Mrs. Ann Collett, Mrs. Bobbi Fallon, Mrs. Mella Gill, Mrs. Lorraine Godfrey, Mrs. Terry Lagomarsino, Mrs. Emma King, Mrs. Jayne Lewis, Mrs. Lois Noonan, Mrs. Claire Norton, Mrs. Rita Oliva, Mrs. Ginny Radanovich, Mrs. Fran Richardson and Mrs. Mary Scott.

Two junior hostesses will also be on hand, Debbie Bocci and Paulette Camous.

Tickets will go on sale Saturday noon in the parish hall.

Reservations chairman Mrs. Mary Dempsey and her committee will "man" the ticket window until 3 p.m. on the first day.

Mrs. Joan Delfino is the general chairman of the fashion show, set for February 17 in the Sheridan-Palace Hotel, and Mrs. Marty Sugrue is co-chairman.

Carousal of Color is the theme selected by the committee.

MRS. ELIZABETH FUNDENBERG, Mrs. Molly McGilley Mrs. Helen Sprowl, Mrs. Lucille Rentmeester, Mrs. Ora Valdivia, Mrs. Nora Norman, Mrs. Alice Myers and Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, all members of Pacifica's Fifty Plus Club, are a loyal contingent of Bingo enthusiasts who play with the residents of the Linda Mar Convalescent Home on the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

MEMBERS OF THE ART GUILD of Pacifica's executive board will meet on Monday in the home of Sydney Clark at 8 p.m. for the regular monthly planning sessions.

Strange Happenings To Be Seen, Heard

By MARIA MONTENEGRO

There are a lot of strange happenings to be seen and heard on campus this week. But anything should be expected during TN's yearly Spirit Week.

Festivities began yesterday with Sign Day. The strong class spirit which characterizes Spirit Week got off to a good start as classes competed in plastering the school with signs.

Today is Dress-up Day. Students will wander down the halls dressed as children of the past. Also on the agenda is an intra-mural basketball tournament between classes. Freshmen will play against sophomores and juniors against seniors. The winners will play against each other for the championship at another rally on Friday.

Tomorrow marks Crazy Day. Seniors will be attired in crazy hats, juniors crazy colors, sophomores crazy shirts, and freshmen crazy hats.

Color Day on Friday will round off the week as each class wears its colors (seniors — white, Juniors — Black, Sophomores — Gold, and freshmen — red).

The class that has shown the most spirit will be presented with the Spirit Award at Friday's rally.

Progressive Dinner Set

Members of Xi Xi Zeta of Beta Sigma Phi in Daly City have planned a progressive dinner January 27.

The dinner will consist of cocktails at the home of Mrs. Bert Thomas, moving to salad at the home of Mrs. Thomas Eichler, and continuing with the entree at the home of Mrs. Paul Kiel.

Dessert will follow at the home of Mrs. Nick Raisis, and conclude with after-dinner drinks at the home of Mrs. Paul Smith.

As the unit's philanthropic project for the year, its plans to pledge monthly support to "Save the Children Federation." The group will meet January 18 at the home of Mrs. Nick Raisis.

Pacifica's Police Chief To M.C. Valentine Event

Pacifica Police Chief Neil Tremaine will share the spotlight as master of ceremonies when a Beta Sigma Phi Valentine. Queen is elected and crowned by Mrs. Donna Shapton, last year's Valentine Queen, February 10 at the South San Francisco Elk's Lodge.

The Second Annual Valentine Ball is sponsored by the Pacifica Council of Beta Sigma Phi. Over 200 members and guests will celebrate the event with dinner and dancing.

The Valentine Queen contest is a Beta Sigma Phi tradition which eventually extends far beyond Pacifica, as chapters all over the world may enter their chosen Queen in the International competition.

Candidates in this year's local competition, elected by the members of their respective chapters are: Shirlee Gibbs, Alpha Alpha Omicron; Sharon Vuko, Phi Epsilon Kappa; Sandi Rose, Tau Gamma; and Flo Dickow, Xi Lambda Phi.

Pacifica's Queen will be selected by the number of votes received through ticket sales. Tickets, still available, includes dinner and dancing. Reservation chairmann is Mrs. Dorothy Blasquez.

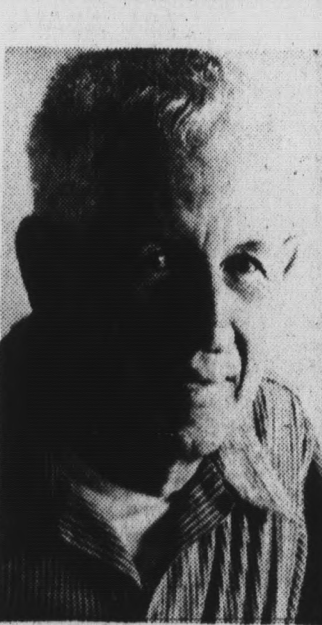

Wesley Explorer's Club Will Host Artist Napote

Bay area artist Alexander Napote will be the guest of the "Explorers Club" of the Wesley Methodist Church of Daly City at the group's monthly meeting Saturday.

Professor of Art at San Francisco State College, Napote will discuss with the group the topic "Art and You."

His awards include those from the 11th Annual of Northern California Painters, Western Painters Annual, Denver Art Museum, California Palace of the Legion of Honor, 35th National Exhibition California Water Color Society.

Napote's works are in many major museums including the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York City, as well as numerous traveling exhibitions.

Fixing 'Shelf' Meals

Good morning, good cooks!
I've been cogitating about the desirability of having on your pantry shelves the making for tasty dinners.

There are days when it's just impossible to get out of the house to shop.

And, on those days you would be happier if you didn't have to depend on oatmeal and toast for dinner.

To spare you good cooks such a fate, I've been testing some recipes and checking through my files for recipes I've used over the years for those emergency meals.

This first entree uses good old canned corned beef and combines it with tomatoes and cheese to make a dish that is delicious and attractive enough to serve anytime, not just in desperation.

CORNEB BEEF DELIGHT

- 1/2 onion, diced
- 1 can (12 oz.) corned beef
- 2 cups potato, cooked and diced
- 1 1/2 cups evaporated milk
- 1 teas. salt
- 3/4 teas. pepper
- 3 Tbsp. melted butter
- 3 Tbsp. flour
- 1 can (No. 303) tomatoes
- 1/4 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Mix the one-half cup diced onion, one can corned beef (broken into pieces), two cups cooked and diced potatoes, one-half cup of the evaporated milk, one teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper. Press the mixture in a 2 quart casserole, press the meat to the sides and bottom, leaving a hollow in the center.

Melt the three tablespoons butter in a saucepan. When it begins to bubble stir in the three tablespoons flour. Remove thepan from heat and carefully stir in the remaining three-fourths cup milk and the tomato liquid.

Return the pan to the heat and stir constantly until sauce thickens. Next pour this sauce over the meat mixture in the casserole and add the tomatoes. (They will fill up the hollow and peek through the sauce) Sprinkle the one-fourth cup grated cheese over all. Bake in preheated 350-degree oven for 30 minutes., or until top is browned. Serves 4.

ONE ITEM THAT MOST OF US HAVE on our kitchen shelves at all times is tuna fish. Personally I love it in any form, sandwiches, salad or cooked in a casserole. This next dish falls into the last category and is easy to mix and fix.

TUNA CASSEROLE

- 1 cup diced celery
- 1 can tuna
- 1 can bean sprouts
- 1/2 cup diced onion
- 1 can mushroom soup
- 1 can Chow Mein noodles
- 1/4 cup water
- 4 ounces sliced almonds (optional)

Combine the one cup diced celery, one can tuna, one can bean sprouts, one-half cup diced onion, one can each mushroom soup and noodles and the one-fourth cup water. If you are lucky enough to have almonds on the shelf, add them. Blend well and pour into large lightly buttered casserole. Bake at 325-degrees 50 to 60 minutes.

As you can see there is nothing complicated in making this tuna casserole, just mix all the ingredients together and bake. This next dish is nearly as easy, in that you just combine all the ingredients in a mixing bowl and then cook. But you cook this dish in your skillet and the result is a colorful and delicious entree.

RED FLANNELL HASH

- 1 can corned beef (12 oz.)
- 1 1/2 cups chopped beets
- 3 cups chopped potatoes
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 3 Tablespoons light cream (or evaporated milk)

Crumble the one can of corned beef and combine it with the one and one-half cup cooked beets, three cups potatoes, one and one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Add the three tablespoons cream and mix lightly.

Melt fat in a heavy skillet. Spread meat mixture evenly in the bottom. Cook over low heat without stirring about 30 minutes. (Loosen edges with a spatula and shake skillet occasionally to prevent sticking.)

When crust forms on bottom, make a shallow crosswise cut in top. Tip skillet and slip out so that hash folds over like an omelette. If desired top with poached eggs. Serves 4 to 6.

Since the theme of the column today is 'shelf' meals, I feel that I may be stretching it a bit to include this next salad. Of course the kidney beans and olives do come from cans, and the rest of the ingredients are not too exotic, so here it is, delicious and eye appealing.

CHILI BEAN SALAD

- 1/4 teas. chili powder
- 1/4 cup oil
- 2 Tbsp. vinegar
- 2 teas. sugar
- 1/4 teas. salt
- 2 cans (about 1 lb. each) kidney beans, drained
- 1 large green pepper, diced
- 1 small Bermuda onion, diced
- 1 cup pitted ripe olives, halved
- 2 Tbsp. catsup
- 1 Tbsp. mayonaise
- 1 large head lettuce

Heat the one-fourth teaspoon chili powder in the one-fourth cup oil in a small saucepan about two minutes to develop the flavor. Remove from heat and stir in the two tablespoons vinegar, two teaspoons sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt. Stir into drained beans in a large bowl, let stand about 30 minutes.

Add the diced green pepper, diced onion, one cup olives, two tablespoon catsup and one tablespoon mayonaise.

Place shredded lettuce in bottom of large salad bowl, fill bowl with bean mixture.

SHIRLEY E. NELSON

Name Woman Bank Chief

Shirley E. Nelson of Belmont has been promoted to manager of Wells Fargo Bank's Pacific office, an appointment that ranks her as the first woman manager in the 233-branch institution.

William Barken, senior vice president in charge of the Personnel Division, said that Mrs. Nelson is the first among a growing number of experienced bank women who will be moving from assistant manager into manager positions in the future.

Until her promotion, Mrs. Nelson was assistant manager of Wells Fargo's Stonestown office, San Francisco, for three years. During her sixteen-year career with branches in Oakland and San Francisco, she advanced from teller and operations supervisor to an assistant cashier in 1962, and assistant manager in 1964.

A native of Jamestown, N.D., Mrs. Nelson was raised in Seattle, Wash. and entered banking in 1950 with the First National Bank of Portland.

She is a member of the National Association of Bank Women.

She replaces Lyle Planje, who was promoted to an East Bay branch managership.

Viet Letter To Westmoor

Greetings and thanks have been expressed to Westmoor High School's student body in Daly City by their Vietnamese foster child, Vi Thi Nhung, who is being supported through the students' efforts.

Vi Thi Nhung, a sixth grader at Duy Tan School in Vietnam, wrote a letter in Vietnamese, accompanied by an English translation, to the student body. In it he described his usual school day beginning at 6 a.m.

Vi Thi Nhung, also said "thank you" for the VN950, Vietnamese money, two bars of soap and the umbrella that the Westmoor Student Body recently sent him.

He assured the students that because of their assistance he has enough food and can continue his schooling.

Westmoor has been supporting Vi Thi Nhung since early 1966.

Before that they had another foster child, Tran Dao from Saigon, Vietnam, who grew to self-supporting age.

The Foster Parent Plan has been a part of Westmoor's extra-curricular activities since 1965.

S.M. Check Thefts Grow

A growing problem for District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson and his staff is the theft and forgery of county welfare checks.

A total of 49 suspected forgeries were reported in 1967, Sorenson said today.

In each case the check was stolen from a mailbox before the intended recipient could get to it. Sorenson said there have been cases in the past where checks have been stolen with the complicity of the recipients, who then apply for replacement checks. None of the 1967 cases was of that type, however, the district attorney said.

Of the 49 reports received during the year, Sorenson said, 45 have been assigned to a special detail for investigation. Of that number, 12 criminal complaints, covering 14 checks, were issued. Eight investigations were dropped and 25 are still under investigation.

North County Man Given Five to Life

One of two North County men found guilty of the budgeon slaying last August of an 84-year-old retired sea captain in a Russian River home, was sentenced Jan. 9 to five years in life in prison after a Superior Court trial. The second, a former Hell's Angel, will be sentenced Monday.

Clifford R. Foster, 24, was sentenced in Superior Court in Santa Rosa after he pleaded guilty to second degree murder in the death of Arthur Kjellmann in his home at Hacienda on the Russian River.

His co-defendant, Anthony J. Herrera, 27, of Millbrae, pleaded guilty to first-degree murder.

The aged victim was said to have been beaten repeatedly with a blunt object and kicked in the abdomen. His bloody, empty wallet was found later in a parking lot in Guerneville.

Foster was arrested by San Bruno officers Hugh Frazer and Bob Tinko when they spotted his car in a driveway at 180 San Luis Avenue.

Morals Jury Frees Man

A former youth counselor accused of two counts of committing immoral acts against a 14-year-old boy he allegedly picked up in San Francisco's Haight Ashbury district last fall was acquitted of one charge and the jury failed to reach a decision on the second after a three-day trial before Superior Court Judge Melvin E. Cohn in Redwood City last week.

George Saroff, 38, of Daly City, now a maintenance engineer in San Francisco, will face a second trial on the second charge on March 18, according to his defense attorney, Gerald E. Ragan of San Mateo.

Saroff was arrested by Daly City police after he allegedly committed the acts against the boy on August 14.

Ragan said Saroff testified that he had merely taken the boy, a runaway, to his home to telephone his parents when the boy ran from his house.

The jury was out more than five hours before announcing it could not reach agreement on the second charge.

Honors For School Duo

Glenn South and Richard Hart were presented plaques, "In appreciation of your services to Westmoor," from the Westmoor student body in Daly City.

South was appointed principal of Westmoor in 1956, when the student body attended Jefferson High School on double session.

In that year South oversaw much of the building as Westmoor rose on its hilltop site.

He was appointed assistant superintendent for business-elect last year.

For ten years Hart participated in the growth of Westmoor, starting as a mathematics instructor.

In later years he filled the positions of counselor, director of student activities, and attendance supervisor.

As director of student activities, Hart devoted much time to working with students' development of government responsibilities. Hart is now a math instructor and counselor at Terra Nova in Pacifica.

Largest Complex Wins OK

South San Francisco councilmen approved a use permit for the 200-unit Club View Apartment complex at a public hearing Monday, after developers of the project agreed to a number of conditions imposed by the city.

Under new provisions added to the use permit by the council, the Club View Apartments Corporation must maintain a "common green" area, pipe and cover the section of Twelve Mile Creek between Orange Avenue and El Camino Real, and reserve the covered creek area for parking purposes.

Plans for the complex were already in accord with a number of restrictions and provisions imposed by the planning commission and the city's fire, police and building inspection departments.

Located near the intersection of El Camino Real and Camarillo Drive in a "U" District, the new apartment complex will be the largest development of its type in the city.

Siro Viacava, president of the Club View Corp., assured planners and councilmen last month that the apartment units will not be sold to occupants, and the owner will maintain the common green areas and the parking facilities.

Former Mayor Lyman E. McGuffin of San Bruno was placed on a year's summary probation and all further proceedings in the case against him on a misdemeanor charge of violating a regulation of the state real estate commission were suspended by Superior Court Judge Melvin E. Cohn when he appeared in court in Redwood City last Wednesday for sentencing.

The ex-public official had pleaded guilty to the charge after a felony charge of grand theft against him was dismissed on motion of the District Attorney's office on December 20.

Judge Cohn remarked that before the grand theft was issued, "Mr. McGuffin had a very fine record in this county."

Because of McGuffin's record as both a councilman and mayor, Judge Cohn said he "was shocked" when the charge against the 68-year-old was first filed.

"He certainly has been punished more by the publicity and cancellation of his (real estate) license than any sentence I could impose," Judge Cohn declared. "I don't believe he has ever had even a traffic tag."

Judge Cohn said he was suspending all proceedings in the case in view of the punishment McGuffin has already suffered and because of his age.

McGuffin's attorney, G. W. Hackett of San Bruno, told the judge "He has served the people of this community well."

He explained that McGuffin had no intention of stealing any funds and had made full restitution in the case. He told the court that McGuffin is in financial difficulties now.

"It is not often that the district attorney's office agrees in a recommendation for straight probation," James L. Browning, deputy district attorney, added.

He also cited McGuffin's "very admirable record."

According to the complaint, McGuffin had accepted a $2,700 deposit for the purchase of a Millbrae home on April 13 of last year, but had failed to place the money in escrow.

McGuffin served on the San Bruno City Council from 1948 to 1952, and in 1952 he was an unsuccessful candidate for the Board of Supervisors.

Fire Department Growth

The Daly City fire department has grown from an organization of only five men and one firehouse to a force of 64 men and six stations in its 17 years as a paid, professional fire-fighting contingent.

The department noted its 17 years as a fulltime division Tuesday.

Four of the five original firemen remain on the job in Daly City today. They are battalion chiefs Wayne Alexander, Mel Hanson, Frank Specht and George DeBono.

The fifth, Hank Weisner, remains in the employ of Daly City, however, as an electrician.

Alexander pointed out today that just prior to the conversion to a fulltime, paid department, some 60 volunteers devoted their time to combating the area's fires and meeting other emergencies that face firemen day to day.

The volunteers still play a role in the fire department activities, but their numbers have been slimmed to about 15.

Those volunteers were led by the city's only paid fireman, the late chief, Elmer Kennedy.

Herb Ritzmann, the present chief, took over in 1965.

The city's first fire station was located at Santa Barbara and Park View streets.

WE'VE HEARD that dishonest, news-hungry persons are swiping more than the usual number of papers from daily newspaper racks . . . getting two or three for the price of one . . . and some carrier newsboys have been missing several, too. A wunnerful world we live in!

PACIFICA City Manager Bill Masonheimer, among other things, might be checking soon into the legality of extending the city limits out into the blue Pacifica . . . such an idea being proposed by a councilman last week, with the suggestion bass fishermen be licensed. . .

Singer Who Wants to Act

Three years ago Lainie Kazan came to San Francisco and flopped. Today she's back (currently at the Fairmont's Venetian Room) as a star but considers it only a beginning.

"I really wanted to be an actress," the slim and curvaceous singer told me between shows on Thursday night. "But I started doing a few small comedy roles on Broadway that involved singing and dancing and the acting was always secondary."

"Then Seven Arts Films signed me to a seven-year contract, and I thought it was my big chance. It was at that time I took over from Barbara Streisand in 'Funny Girl' and suddenly I was being acclaimed as a singer and even had to get out of my film contract."

Now her chance to prove her versatility has come. She's just completed her first movie, "Dayton's Devils" starring Leslie Nielsen and hopes lots of the right people see her and give her the chance to act.

"I'll never give up singing, it is too joyous a possession and besides I find it physically exquisite. But not 52 weeks a year. That's no way to grow and if I can't grow as a person and a performer, I might as well be dead," she admitted, curling up inside a satin striped lounging gown.

Vote 'Yes' on Junior College Tax Measures

Long demonstrated fairness and consideration for the taxpayers is the best recommendation that any public institution can possibly have when it finds itself confronted with the need for more funds to continue its operations and meet the expansion demands of continually growing population.

When such demonstrated fairness and consideration are coupled with an admirable record for prudence and foresight the taxpayers already have assurance that the need for more funds is real, is genuine, and merits their support.

These are reasons why the forthcoming, March 26, tax permissive measure and small bond issue to be submitted to the voters by the San Mateo Junior College District should win the unanimous "Yes" of the district voters.

The facts are simple. The cost increases — the jump in prices and wages — that have hit all of us have hit the College District in the same way.

For a long time the college trustees have been practicing every possible economy in order to meet the increasing costs while, at the same time, carrying on the 1964 voter-authorized expansion calling for two more sorely needed new campuses. How well they have succeeded is shown by the fact that, although the college is seventh in enrollment of all the 56 junior colleges in the state (the largest in the Northern California area), its tax rate is fifth lowest among all the junior college districts.

But the time has come when the economy belt can be tightened no further without curtailing operations and endangering the taxpayers' investment in the two added colleges, on both of which extensive savings were made by prudent foresight in early site purchases.

At first, the college trustees had intended to get the needed funds by asking for a three-year 18 cents rise in the permissive tax ceiling. Yet, out of consideration for the district's taxpayers, they had the courage to change this plan to one that will be easier on the taxpayers.

What they will offer to voters on March 26 will be a permissive tax of 12 cents increase for three years, and an additional 25-year bond issue of $3.1 millions for completion of the first phase of the two new colleges. The latter will increase the tax rate by only one and a half cents per year and, incidentally, will gain for the district a total of $1,135,300 in federal and state matching funds.

Passage of both measures will cut the prospective annual rate increase to 13½ cents per hundred dollars assessed valuation each year and it is calculated that the increased district tax to the average taxpayer ($25,000 assessment) will go up by only about 70 cents per month.

The college district trustees have done everything they can possibly do to lighten the load and they deserve our thanks. Both ballot measures should be passed.

Lowell's Classic Reply

On a day in 1884 James Russell Lowell as the American ambassador to Great Britain was asked to reply to critics of the government of the United States.

While everyone recognized him as a poet, few expected him to be a match for the critics, especially the clever and witty Thomas Carlyle who had said with great scorn that America meant only roast turkey everyday for everyone.

Lowell's reply became a classic that needs to be reviewed today when some Americans are saying disparaging things about their country.

He defines the Government of the United States as a democracy which is "nothing more than an experiment in government that must stand or fall on its own merits as other forms have done before it."

Lowell stated that he recognized that in the United States mistakes are made under the notion of reforms — But he says an appeal to the reason of the people has never been known to fail in the long run.

IN COMMENTING on what he considered to be some mistakes in his day, Lowell stated the faith of right thinking Americans.

"But I feel assured that experience and necessity will cure this evil, as they have ever been remedied till they become intolerable, and shook men out of their indolent indifference through their fears."

He points out that his faith rests on the Constitution which contains as many obstacles as the framers could contrive; not in the way of the people's will but of their whim.

As an example of the success of the American democracy he points to the assimilation of enormous masses of people heterogeneous in all respects and drawn mainly from that class which might fairly say that the world was not their friend.

"To have achieved even these prosaic results (if you choose to call them so), and that out of materials most discordant, — I might say the most recalcitrant — argues a certain beneficent virtue in the system that could do it, and it is not to be accounted for mere luck."

Though his address was delivered 84 years ago, Lowell was speaking to our times.

"Communism means barbarism . . . State Socialism would cut off the very roots of personal character — self-help, forethought and frugality — which nourish and sustain the trunk and branches of every vigorous Commonwealth."

"Our healing is not in the storm or the whirlwind, it is not in the monarchies or aristocracies but will be revealed by the still small voice that speaks to the conscience of the heart, prompting us to a wider and wiser humanity."

Letters To the Editor

Editor, The Post:

In reference to San Francisco Mayor Alioto's recent proposal for a $25-a-year commute tax, I would like to underline a few points in this regard.

These commuters to San Francisco businesses and employers, far from being the parasites the mayor seemed to suggest, are in fact (along with the hundreds of thousands of visitors of all categories) the geese that lay the golden eggs for the City of San Francisco. These many businesses and places of employment for these 122,000 commuters (the mayor's figures) are essential to the economic well-being of San Francisco. And these various businesses could not get along without these commute-employees.

The City of San Francisco can house the short-time visitor, but it simply does not have the space to provide the type of residential housing which the majority of its commute-employees have found in nearby suburbs. In other words these good folks are not on San Francisco property-tax rolls for the reason that they could not find San Francisco property to their taste to occupy.

And as for the mayor's assertion, "They take their portion of the whole payroll in The City out of The City," I suggest he poll San Francisco businesses, stores, automobile-type services and parking, professionals (doctors, dentists, etc.), places of entertainment (including Fisherman's Wharf), etc., whether they could do without nearby Bay Area commute patronage?

And the mayor's further comment "And we have had to provide garages for them and parking lots." It is fairly evident to anyone that San Francisco downtown parking facilities are very inadequate, day or night, from standpoint of San Francisco business service and prosperity, as well as simple convenience.

WILLIAM L. JEPSON,
Pacifica.

EYESORE OF THE WEEK

THIS DISCARDED ice box could prove deadly if it were to fall onto a small child. Neighbors of this Daly City eyesore claim children play nearby and have often crawled under the box, which has had its door removed. There are other incidents, however, of persons throwing away refrigerators in the North County without removing the doors. We would remind them this is a violation of the law — in addition to being an eyesore. Each year unused refrigerators are responsible for the deaths of several small children who climb inside, close the door and suffocate.

Standards for Property

NOW THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT pushing a law that will require homeowners to meet certain standards before they sell their property.

It's not a new concept.

Many cities have what is known as the "Termite Law" and inspectors from various agencies come in (at the expense of the seller) and check the home for defects. This protects the buyer and the money lenders. But the way some of our lawmakers would have the law written it would just be a lot of ink on paper, with so many loopholes it would be ineffectual.

What makes the law "weak" is the fact that while it would be drawn for countywide uniformity it would be left to each city to determine whether or not to impose it.

AND LET'S SET the people straight on the subject of that Bay Area Rapid Transit station in Daly City. BARTD can do just about whatever they please. If they decide to put an elevated station in that city, that's what will be constructed.

Daly City has no power to tell BARTD what to do. The technical reasons for this power are bewildering, but suffice it so say D.C. will be on the receiving end of whatever BARTD decides in the way of a station.

And it is feared they have already decided upon an elevated station — not underground as has been insisted upon by city officials.

THE FLAT OF OUR SWORD to BARTD (while we're still on that subject) for allowing that burned out "eyesore" to exist at 365 Niantic Avenue, Daly City — property allegedly owned by an A. J. Brabant.

According to BARTD Director of Real Estate T. L. Carlson, the ruins DO NOT belong to BARTD and acquisition of this small plot at the entrance to the city will be a long time in coming, because "ownership of this property is complicated by the lack of necessary probate proceedings," Carlson said.

DALY CITY STAFF MEMBERS Edward Frank (city manager) and Edward Lawson (city planner) ventured over to the East Bay last week to look at the BARTD system over thataway.

LOTS OF BEHIND THE SCENE shuffling in the present battle for leadership of BARTD's Board of Directors in San Francisco. Some directors think Adrian Falk should stay because he's been the president since the start — others want new blood to take over. Last week's meet ended in a deadlock.

THE D.C. POLICE communications center — a maize of wires, TV sets, buttons, levers and other automated paraphernalia—is now in limited operation at the new Civic Center.

The center is considered one of the most modern in California, and certainly the very finest for any police department of comparable size anywhere. Congratulations to Chief Roland Petrochi for "seeing it through." Like the saying goes: You gets what you pays for!"

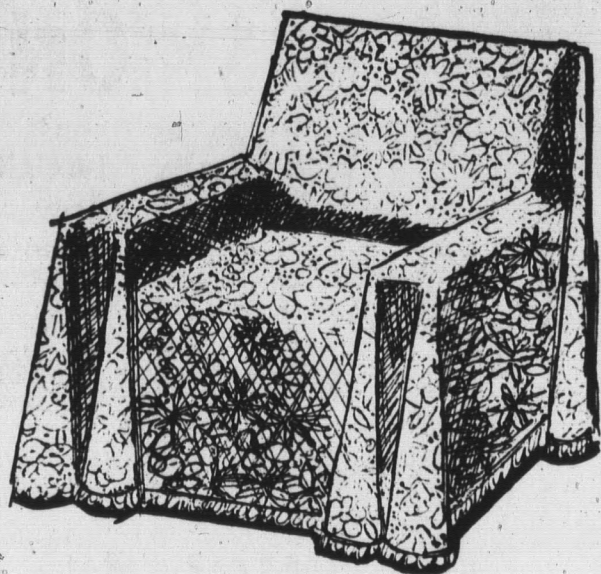

FLASHY FLASH — Wanna bet Municipal Court Judge Charles Becker will be assigned fulltime to the Daly City branch of the NJD Court? Why else would he be a frequent visitor to the old city hall on Wellington Avenue, scene of much activity as renovating of the structure progresses? Some time ago, one muni judge thought a "rotational system" of assigning judges to the court would be used. Perhaps this concept has changed (???).

THAT NEWSPAPER STRIKE is affecting just about everyone. A local hair stylist informed us she was in one heck of a predicament "thanks to the strike." She is experiencing difficulty in obtaining suitable material to housebreak her puppy. Alright, alright, we know what the answer to her problem is, but darned if we'll go along with it.

TRAVELERS' DEPT. — JOSEPH KAPLAN has just returned from the Winter Meeting of the National Society of Professional Engineers held in Washington (D.C.). . . . FRANK MONTE, Jeff Elementary School District trustee, told friends at the Bacca Club in D.C. the other p.m. he had hoped they could have postponed last summer's Miami Beach administrators' convention until last weekend. That way he could have watched the Raiders-Green Bay game free. Some people have all the BAD luck (or do they?).

Clerks Nix Night Racing

By GARRY NIVER
Post Sports Writer

Night horse racing, a cinch bet for Bay Meadows one week ago, last week returned to the realm of being just another dream for the California horse player and taxpayer.

Mutuel clerks in both San Mateo and Los Angeles rejected management offers for night differential which had been agreed upon earlier by the negotiators of both sides.

As a result, Dr. William Ward of Hillsborough, president of the Peninsula Racing Association, has suspended all further installations for the night quarter horse meet which was to debut at Bay Meadows May 23 for 38 evenings.

The Northern California Mutuel Clerks voted last week at the Elks Club in San Mateo to turn down the offer, 73-27, thus killing the scheduled meet at the Meadows.

Wednesday night the Los Angeles Local 280 voted, 115-88, to reject the offer. Thus, the night race meet scheduled at Los Alamitos later in the year has also been jeopardized.

Frank Vessels, Jr., president at Los Alamitos, predicted that "a long delay will kill our chances of racing at night in California this year."

"As of now, there will not be a night quarter horse meet at Bay Meadows," Ward stated.

"If we conceded to what they are asking, we would have to operate in the red and eventually go out of business anyway," he added.

Ward attributed the failure of the vote to politics and to one man, former mutuel clerk president Joseph Detchemendy. "It was strictly a move on his part to show how powerful he is. If this weren't an election year, the offer would have been accepted," Ward stated.

Ward was highly critical of the union boss, saying, "In my opinion this is just for personal gain — so as he can get elected head of the mutuel union again."

"By doing this, Detchemendy is sacrificing his union and jeopardizing racing in California," the veteran racing official said.

Ward revealed that it took only 20 minutes to effect a successful contract with the teamsters' union.

"We have ordered all of our equipment, signed the electrical contract and have already completed a lot of work on the installations for night racing," he woefully added.

While Ward lashed out at Detchemendy for his ill-timed power play, he was laudatory in his recognition of the efforts put forth by mutuel officials Nicklaus Daddario, Wayne Stollard and Bill Spiering.

"But until the union comes to its senses, we cannot go on," he concluded.

'8 to 11 Club' Opens in SSF

Eight to 11-year-old boys and girls of South San Francisco have been invited to join another session of the South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department's "8 to 11 Club."

The group meets every Tuesday evening at Siebecker Recreation Center from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Gene Tischbier is recreation leader in charge and gives basic instruction in social dancing and social graces. All children attending must be transported by adults. Admission is by membership card only and may be obtained at Siebecker center.

LAKE MERCED Sailing Club members held their annual El Toro Rodeo Sunday, with more than 40 boats participating in eight different racing events. A new event, the relay race, was featured in Sunday's activities. Here club secretary Dianne Power scrambles to turn over the centerboard to her partner in the relay. Other activities Sunday included a women's race, novice races and a "race of the champions" for past trophy winners.

NPL BASKETBALL

Westmoor, S.S.F., Still On Top

The North Peninsula League basketball race was predicted to be a two-team affair and as of this week nothing had happened to alter that.

Westmor and South San Francisco High schools are expected to be right in there until the final game and the hill-toppers from Daly City took care of cross-town rival Jefferson Friday night, 54-47, while the Warriors, after an impressive victory over El Camino at mid-week, took the night off.

In other NPL action, Oceana High School, a team which could be a major deciding factor in the final outcome, bombed El Camino, 71-45, while Terra Nova defeated visiting Half Moon Bay, 55-50.

Tony Giammona's Rams made it two in a row over the Jeff quintet with Friday night's win and moved out in front of the pack with a 2-0 record. Trailing just briefly in the third period by one point, the Rams came on strong in the late going to pull away from the pesky Jeff squad.

"It sounds trite but this really was a team effort tonight," said a happy Giammona after the game. "We needed to beat Jefferson and all five starters came through with strong contributions."

After a close first half, center Gary Soules and forward Grady Proctor broke the game open with Soules hitting 14 of his 16 points in the last 16 minutes and Proctor continuing to hit the boards with a vengeance.

Outside threat Joe Anible put aside his shooting Friday night and was outstanding bringing the ball up against the Jefferson zone press. Westmoor, no slouch itself when it comes to a zone, held high-scoring forward Steve Kirby to just one point all night and generally forced the Indians to rely on outside shooting.

Guard Narvis Thompson got his points in the first half while the quick Indians got 12 points from Lou Matteucci on corner jumpers and ten more from Ray Blanco.

Oceana, meanwhile, in the comfortable confines of its home gym, employed the run-and-shoot tactics Friday afternoon in running up a victory that must make the Sharks threats to upset the front-runners on any given day.

Lack Big Man

The Sharks, who are one of the tallest teams in the league, came on strong after the first quarter, when they led 16-15, on the perimeter shooting of Tim Sershan and the offensive rebounding and scoring of forward

Jim McCaughey and center Charlie Nelson.

The Colts, lacking a big man to counteract those two, often got just one shot and their shooting was way off. Oceana just couldn't seem to miss as twisters, jumpers, lay-ins and bombs went in with equal alacrity.

Oceana ran up the lead in the second half to a high point of 69-39, a 30-point spread, before the subs took over for good.

"It was one of the better games we have played in a long time," admitted Coach Rick Warner. "With this strong rebounding we hope to get all season we will not give in to any team."

For the second time this season Half Moon Bay surged in front of Terra Nova only to lose the game in a futile last period. This time the Cougars blew a late-third period 11-point lead as Don Delbon's Tigers surged to a 55-50 victory, evening its record at 1-1.

After falling behind by eight points in the early going, the Cougars, on the efforts of Ray Hartman and Tom Pacheco, pulled away from the shuffling Tigers. Earlier in the year, at the NPL Tourney, HMB had a 21-point lead in the second half only to lose the game by seven.

"We just blew it ourselves," lamented losing Coach Chuck Short. "We had so many lay-ins and free throws in those last few minutes that we really have no one to blame but ourselves."

In those last few minutes of action the Cougars missed five one-and-one situations and had six lay-ins roll the wrong way.

Meanwhile, Terra Nova's two fine guards, Gary Hernandez and George Martinez, again carried the brunt of the scoring attack with 27 points.

MILLS BOWS

Cap Finally Hits Stride! Downs Mills

By CRAIG BECKHEYER
Post Sports Writer

Capuchino's Mustangs, tabbed in the pre-season as one of the teams to beat in this year's Mid-Peninsula League basketball chase, are finally starting to behave in a manner becoming a contending team.

With Mat Krieltich leading the way, Coach Jim Johnson's lads erupted with a 25 point first period, staved off a stretch drive by Mills, then coasted to a 75-63 victory over the Vikings Friday night before a packed house at their home-gymnasium.

Krieltich, scoring on every conceivable type of shot, tallied 34 points for the Mustangs to set a new Capuchino scoring record in MPL play.

After losing their first two league games, the Steeds were not to be denied in this one. Cap bombed their way to an 11-0 advantage at the start, chewed up the Viking man to man defense and earned a 25-9 lead after the first eight minutes.

Krieltich, hitting with long set shots from the outside, driving lay-ups in close and a brace of free-throws for good measure, tallied 16 points in the first period.

Mills, 0-1 in the lists going into this one, finally got going in the second period when they began to solve the host's zone defense and center John Schilling began connecting on jumpers from the top of the key.

For a moment it looked as though the Norsemen were going to make a real run at it when they closed to within six points in the dying moments of the first half but then Rick Olivera came up with a three point play in the final two seconds and it was 39-30 Cap at the intermission.

Mills came out in the third period breathing fire. Throwing a full court press at the Steeds, they stayed right with them on the shooting of Rene Durrazo and Jeff Kuchlenz and were down only five counters at 51-56 going into the final period.

Cap Ices It

It was here, however, that Cap moved out to stay. With Mills coach Frank Firpo kicking the stands in frustration, the Vikes made numerous ball control errors to allow Roger Carmine and Krieltich to lead the hosts to a 20 point advantage and a coasting win.

Carmine, with 11 points, joined George Gladius (also with 11) to augment Krieltich's record breaking effort while Kuchlenz was top man for the losers with 15. John Cowan and Schilling also broke into double digits for the losers with an even dozen points each. Capuchino took advantage of numerous Mills' fouls to earn a 19-11 edge from the free throw line while hitting for 43 per cent from the floor (28 out of 65) while the Norsemen were 25 for 73 and 34 per cent.

The College of San Mateo wrestling team returns to the Golden Gate Conference wars today.

Cow Palace Boat Show Continuing

Record crowds flocked to the Cow Palace last weekend to view the hundreds of exhibits at the twenty-sixth annual San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show, which continues its ten-day run through January 21.

Of the thousands of outdoor sports items, from motor and sailboats to fish hooks, guns to camping gear, water ski equipment to airplanes, show-stoppers include Scottish Fly Casting Champion Peter Anderson and his fly-casting school and the amazing indoor water ski trainer, the Ski Nautique, in which exhibitions are given regularly by area ski champions.

Other attention-getters include Tollycraft Corporation's 50-foot luxury yacht "Discovered," the largest and most expensive ($110,000) boat ever to appear in a boat show in America, and Kettenburg Marine's 41-foot Racing-Crusing Sloop K-41, the largest sailboat ever displayed in a boat show.

Both boats are being exhibited in the center arena of the Cow Palace, which has had every pavilion and possible exhibit space filled for the huge exposition.

Most popular for the children is the Huck Finn Fishing Pond, sponsored by KNER Radio. Freshly stocked with trout, the pond is open to youngsters 12 years and younger and offers the small-fry an opportunity to catch their very first fish.

Show times are 2-11 p.m. through Friday; 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday; and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., Sunday, the final day.

March of Dimes Drive Begins in County

"If we had a wish to make we would wish a healthy and peaceful life for every baby born every day in San Mateo County."

"Yet we know this cannot yet be. We therefore continue our battle against birth defects to give all American children a better chance to be well born," the leaders of the 1968 March of Dimes annual January campaign said here on the eve of the their 30th anniversary.

"To do this we need to do a better job in prenatal care and the care of premature infants," declared Claude J. Hirschey, general campaign chairman. "Every year 250,000 of our children are born with birth defects, which affect the daily lives of 15,000 children and adults.

"Doctors now can do a great deal to protect the health of pregnant women and their unborn children. Yet many are not taking advantage of available medical care.

"At any given time there are more than 3 million pregnant women in the United States. An alarming number of them do not seek medical attention until actual delivery of their babies," James J. Kehoe, chapter chairman, added.

"To encourage every pregnant woman to protect herself and her unborn child, the National Foundation-March of Dimes has launched a prenatal care program. The program is coordinated with local, state and federal agencies, the medical profession and other groups.

"Physicians agree that prenatal care can lessen the risks of many birth defects, even though no one can guarantee that prenatal care will prevent birth defects in a specific baby," Kehoe said.

The March of Dimes also supports nearly 100 birth defects research and treatment centers throughout the country. Each center brings the combined skills of teams of medical experts to bear on the complex birth defects problem.

These centers are made possible by public contribution. Among those attending the kickoff luncheon were: Kehoe, George J. Lawry, Mrs. Emile De Antonio and Mrs. John Diehl of San Bruno; Mrs. Hal Hendrickson and Morris Verna of South San Francisco.

WINNERS OF THE MORE than $75 worth of merchandise and services donated by the Fairmont shopping center merchants, as well as the ceramic flowered plaque award from the Fairmont Homeowners Improvement Association for the "Best lawns and gardens of 1967 in Fairmont," were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Padreddi of 499 Andover Court in Pacifica. Shown are (left to right) Mrs. Nancy Padreddi holding daughter Renee, Ed Libonati, Michael Padreddi (foot on gift shovel) and Robert Padreddi.

Social Security Booth Slated

The Stonetown Shopping Center, in conjunction with the Social Security Administration is sponsoring a program to explain new provisions of recent Social Security legislation. The program is under the direction of Everett M. Eaton, District Manager, of the Social Security legislation.

The program is under the direction of Everett M. Eaton, District Manager, for the Social Security District Office at 761 South Van Ness Avenue.

A booth will be in the Stonetown Mall, serviced by a Social Security representative during the week of January 15th.

The booth will be serviced from 1 to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, from 5 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday and Friday and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. January 20th.

Some of the points to be clarified:

A liberalization of disability requirements for young workers, a provision paying disability benefits to widows and widowers at age 50, an expansion of payments to children on their mother's account, increased earnings that are now possible without loss of benefits, eligibility requirements for dependent husbands and widowers benefits that have been modified, also, numerous important changes in the Medicare law that have been enacted.

Crippled Children State Aid Due for Change

The plight of counties involved in the state's Crippled Children's Services program came into focus Tuesday at a legislative committee hearing and a new plan of financing the program will be proposed to the Legislature.

Committee members, led by Chairman Leo J. Ryan (D-South San Francisco), were critical both of the Reagan administration for suggesting a reduction in the services and of the counties who were always low in their estimated financial needs for the year.

Some counties complained that the funds allocated them by the state were already depleted in some instances the local mill of assessed valuation.

The proposals to be made to the Legislature include a new funding formula based on a county per capita child tax to replace the current one-tenth mill of assessed valuation.

Under the proposed formula, each county would appropriate a fixed sum per child under 21 years. The state would match that sum on a three-to-one basis. State allocations would be made on a quarterly basis based on county expenditures.

Also proposed is a uniform formula for county-state participation based on the three-to-one funding, but the financing would include all services. At present the state pays 100 per cent of diagnostic and physical therapy treatment and matching funds with the counties are required only for treatment of the children.

The new plan also would establish a special fund to help small counties with low property values and which have more cases than their budget allows. There also would be established a uniform financial eligibility standard and an annual report from the state health office on the number and types of children treated to allow legislators to evaluate the ongoing program.

PUT THIS MEAL to the family test: Lasagna, Tossed Green Salad, Sour Cream Apple Pie and Milk. It'll pass with flying colors.

Try Ground Beef In Appetizing Role

Ground beef is great! It's delicious, nutritious, and inexpensive. That's three good reasons why you should serve it often. You can serve it as hamburger, meat balls or meat loaf. You can serve it in Sloppy Joes, spaghetti sauce and chili. And one of the nicest ways you can serve it is in Lasagna.

Lasagna is a zesty Italian casserole that'll capture your family's heart. Especially when it's made from this easy recipe. It combines ground beef that's been browned in golden butter, noodles, spices, tomato sauce, cottage cheese, and two Italian cheeses: Mozzarella and Parmesan. Ground beef never tasted so good.

The next time you make Lasagna make the meal a complete treat by topping it off with a mouth-watering Sour Cream Pie. It's made with "sugar and spice" and lots of other nice things like juicy apples, smooth and flavorful sour cream and tangy lemon juice. And it's topped with a sweet "crumbly" mixture of brown sugar, flour, cinnamon and butter. This tart-sweet apple pie will prove to be something really special.

All-Time Combination For Salad

Lettuce, tomato and cucumber are an all-time favorite combination of salad ingredients. Chances are, however, you've never eaten them this way.

"Low Cal Cucumber Salads with Tomato Dressing" are wedges of crisp western iceberg lettuce and cucumber slices and a thick dressing made with tomato sauce. They are refreshing, flavorful and remarkably satisfying in spite of their minimal calorie content.

An average-size head of western iceberg contains from 65 to 70 calories. You'll find that a generous serving, such as a one-fourth head wedge, provides a lot of eating satisfaction. There are a number of delicious bottled low-calorie dressings in the stores, but none like the rich-tasting dressing in this recipe.

LOW CAL CUCUMBER SALAD WITH TOMATO DRESSING

1 head western iceberg lettuce
1/2 cup tomato sauce
3 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon steak sauce
1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1/4 teaspoon caraway seed
1/2 cucumber, thinly sliced
Core, rinse and drain lettuce; chill in plastic crisper or disposable plastic bag. For dressing, combine all remaining ingredients except cucumber in jar; cover and shake to blend. Chill. Cut lettuce into quarters; arrange wedges with cucumber on salad plates. Pour dressing over just before serving.
Makes 4 servings (2-3 cup dressing).

Beef Tartare Open House

Open house beef tartare: Combine 1/2 pound ground sirloin with 1 lightly beaten egg yolk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley, 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Chill. Serve with an assortment of crackers.

LASAGNA TOSSED GREEN SALAD SOUR CREAM APPLE PIE

LASAGNA
2 tablespoons butter
1 pound ground beef
1-3 cup chopped onion
3/4 teaspoon salt
8 ounces wide noodles
1 can (15 oz.) tomato sauce
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 cups cottage cheese
1 1/2 cups shredded Mozzarella cheese
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

In a skillet melt butter; brown meat and onion. Sprinkle meat with salt. Meanwhile, cook noodles according to package directions; drain. Add tomato sauce, Worcestershire sauce and cottage cheese to noodles; toss lightly. Layer one-half of noodle mixture into buttered shallow 2-quart baking dish; then one-half of meat and half of Mozzarella cheese. Repeat layers; top with Parmesan cheese. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven 30 minutes. Remove from oven; let stand 10-15 minutes before serving.

SOUR CREAM APPLE PIE
1 unbaked pie shell, 9-inch
1 egg
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons regular all-purpose flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup dairy sour cream
4 cups peeled sliced cooking apples

TOPPING:
1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1/4 cup regular all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter

In a small mixing bowl beat together egg, sugar, flour, salt and lemon juice, then beat in sour cream. Place apples in shell; pour sour cream mixture over apples. Bake in a preheated 400 degree oven 15 minutes. Meanwhile, in a bowl combine brown sugar, flour, cinnamon and butter until mixture is crumbly; sprinkle over apples. Reduce oven temperature to 350 degrees; bake 30-40 additional minutes or until apples are tender.

Build up crust on rim of pie plate; flute edge.

FRESH PEAR HALVES, rosy with cranberry sauce are topped with sweet dumplings for an easy-to-make dessert. Serve warm with sour cream.

All Good Things
Come in Pears

All good things come in pears, and in this case pairs! Here are combined two favorite winter fruits, juicy Anjou or Bosc pears and "sassy" cranberry sauce. The result is a flavor effect you'll want to repeat over and over.

Imagine the goodness of spicy fresh pears cooked to tender perfection, topped with piping hot dumplings and served with cranberry sauce and rich cream. It's a dessert unusual enough to be tagged exotic, yet homey as a patchwork quilt!

Fresh pears on the market during the winter and spring months from the Pacific Coasts are a favorite fruit with creative cooks when many other fresh sweet fruits are scarce. Their tender texture and unique flavor offer just the contrast that will give meals sparkle and interest.

You'll usually find fresh Western pears ripe and ready to eat at your favorite market. Ripe pears yield to gentle pressure regardless of color. You can always buy firm pears with confidence. They'll ripen at home in a few days at room temperature, becoming sweet and juicy, the way you like them.

ROSY PEAR DUMPLINGS
 3 fresh Anjou or Bosc pears
 1 (1-pound) can whole cranberry sauce

¼ teaspoon powdered ginger
 ½ cup water
 1 cup packaged biscuit mix
 1 tablespoon sugar
 ½ cup milk

Halve and core pears. In electric skillet, place canned cranberry sauce, ginger and water. Set dial for 240 degrees. Place pears, cut side up, in skillet. Cover and cook for 5 minutes. Prepare dumplings using biscuit mix or any standard dumpling recipe with 1 tablespoon sugar added. Remove cover and top each pear half with spoonful of dumpling batter. Replace cover and cook for 15 minutes. Serve warm, spooning cranberry sauce over pears. Pass a pitcher of cream for those who desire it. Makes 6 servings.

JOAN SEDGWICK'S ILLINOIS CHILI

1 pound ground beef
 1 large onion, finely chopped (1 cup)
 2 garlic cloves, minced
 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, undrained
 1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste, undiluted
 1 can (1 pound) red kidney beans, undrained
 2 teaspoons salt
 10 twists (¼ teaspoon) freshly ground pepper
 2 tablespoons chili powder

Heat a wide saucepan (about three quarts) and in it over moderately low heat cook the beef and onion, using a fork to crumble the meat into small particles, until the beef loses its red color. (If beef is very lean, you may need to add a tablespoon or so of fat; but if grease accumulates after cooking beef and onion, drain it all off.) Add the remaining ingredients. Simmer for at least 20 minutes, stirring several times and breaking up tomatoes. This makes a hot chili; if you want it even hotter, add chili powder to taste and simmer 5 to 10 minutes longer to blend flavors. Makes 6 servings. Nice served in rimmed soup plates.

Hash Stuffs

A Cabbage

Cabbage is a very seasonal vegetable during winter. Corned beef hash is a convenience food which can always be on the pantry shelf. Why not put the two together, using corned beef hash as a stuffing for precooked cabbage leaves, rolled and baked? Serve with tomato or cheese soup as a sauce.

Gourmet Menu
Using Shrimp

Here is an international menu for the gourmet cooking group: bubbly shrimp in a subtly spiced curry sauce, spooned over rusk. For dessert, serve our light and lovely lemon fluff with creme sandwiches and shortbread.

SHRIMP A L'INDIENNE

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
 1 medium onion, chopped
 2 cloves garlic, minced
 1 tablespoon curry powder
 1 medium apple, cored, chopped
 1 large tomato, chopped
 ½ cup chopped green pepper
 1 cup chopped cucumber
 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
 ¼ teaspoon thyme leaves
 ¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
 ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
 2½ teaspoons salt
 1½ pounds raw shrimp, shelled, deveined
 ¼ cup dark raisins
 1 cup chicken broth
 1-3 cup dairy sour cream
 1 (4-ounce) jar pimientos, sliced, drained
 8 rusk
 ¼ cup roasted slivered almonds
 ½ cup flaked coconut

In large skillet melt butter or margarine and saute next two ingredients until golden; stir in curry powder and saute another minute. Add next four ingredients and saute about 5 minutes. Add next eight ingredients and simmer about 10 minutes. Stir in next two ingredients and heat through. Spoon on rusk; top with almonds and coconut. Makes 8 (¾ cup) servings.

Athens Royale Plans Opening Wednesday

SARA FISCHER will celebrate the grand opening of her elegant Athens Royale Supper Club in Redwood City, Wednesday night. Sara and her co-hosts, Chris and John, have planned a night of festivity which also can be expected to be found every night of the week at this exciting Grecian niter. Besides enjoying an authentic Greek dinner, you'll be treated to an entertainment line-up of extraordinary talent featuring the dance team of Ricco and Valya. The original "Bouzouki King," John "Sporos" Stamatis, and his orchestra will play for dancing and listening pleasure. Reservations are suggested for Wednesday's grand opening bash. Don't overlook ordering Abalone on your next Fisherman's Wharf visit to Sil Oliva's Exposition Fish Grotto. This is a chef's special here.

AMONG THE MOST ARDENT boosters for Lew Lehr's Steak House in San Francisco's Marina are members of Weight Watchers Club of San Francisco. A typical comment of the members after dinner at Lehr's is: "Here we can have our steak cut to the size we should eat to watch our weight!" The J and G Restaurant has two entrances — one for those who want to relax at the bar, and one for family dining. Bring the young ones — this is a friendly family atmosphere. Lucien Sabella has "discovered" snow. Last weekend the popular Fisherman's Wharf restaurateur took his family to Lake Tahoe for their first look-see of what makes folks like to ski. The result was a hasty visit to a local sports store for outfitting his entire family in dapper ski attire. Look for Sabella to soon purchase a home in this area. Oh yes, the golf game has been shelved for awhile.

AL KENDLINGER and Jack Pichardy are the two personable gents who greet diners at the South San Francisco International Inn restaurant. Although youthful, both are seasoned veterans in the restaurant business. Al is "right hand" assistant to Manager Doug Young, while "Smilin' Jack" functions as the night manager. Many of the folks who dine at the new Belmont Chuck Wagon stop on their way out to tell host Al Malatesta how much they enjoyed the dinner and to remark on its modest price. Al is an old hand at giving people their money's worth. His Marina Chuck Wagon in San Francisco became famous for gourmet dining at moderate prices. And you'll find the same low prices at Belmont Chuck Wagon; just $3.85 for your choice of the menu. There's no doubt that Phil Lehr's Steakery and elegant Wellington Room in downtown San Francisco is internationally known. Phil recently got phone calls from friends asking him to hold reservations for large parties in the coming year all the way from Manila, London and Berlin.

Doug Young

PIANIST GARY LONG entertains nightly, except Sunday, in the plush Lancer Lounge of Fred and Jerry Rapp's Holiday Inn, South San Francisco. Having just released a record, Gary is not only an entertainment attraction for the Inn travelers, but he's become a favorite "music man" for many Peninsulaans. Screen star James Mason, complete with beard, dropped in at the Ricksha Lounge, 37 Ross Alley, Chinatown San Francisco, en route to film a movie in Australia. Wow! If luncheon business gets any better at Vince's Italian restaurant on El Camino Real, we'll all be making reservations well in advance. It was a steady turn-over of business men and secretaries in the dining room, at the counter and in the booths. Italian and sea food the order of the day. Bob and Dorothy Masuda are again in Fuji Sukiyaki action, having opened the doors of their Japanese restaurant yesterday. It's good news for their many patrons, who have missed the exotic home cooked dishes.

Gary Long

Finocchio's Features New Dance Team

Juan Jose, a Flamenco performer, and exotic dancer Renee DeCarlo have joined forces to form a new dance team at Finocchio's, San Francisco's home of female impersonations. They present a stylized version of a ballroom dance duo, a la the great Tony De Marco. The number is presented at all four of the nightly shows at Finocchio's, where every night is like New Year's Eve.

Food praises of Scotty Campbell's and the coziness of fire-side dining here has often been mentioned in Bright Lights. But did you know there is banquet space available for limited groups? Mary Lou Francis invites your next-party reservations in her well-appointed Redwood City restaurant catering to particular appetites.

Along with the finest pizza you'll ever taste this side of sunny Italy, Italian dinners served at their best is a house specialty of Romanos in Pacifica.

Enjoy The Black Angus 'Brand' Of All You Can Eat

The Black Angus "brand" on the "All you can eat" dishes served at the famed Chuck Wagon in San Mateo stands for a truly remarkable food value. Choose your entree, or entrees, and you can serve yourself as much as you wish for the low price of $1.75. Besides the traditional Western dishes, such as Ranch-style Beef, Country-style Fried Chicken and Chuck Wagon Stew, the Black Angus offers a daily fish entree and a 30-foot iced salad bar loaded with tempting salads, jellies and appetizers.

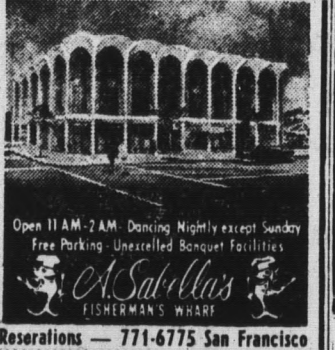

Early tip for Valentine's Day: Why not gift your "best gal" with a Villa Charter Gift Certificate? It's good any time of the year. Better still make a date to wine and dine her on Wednesday, February 14 at the Villa Charter or Lanai restaurant. Both serve a "sweetheart" of a dinner.

With comfortable leather booths, soft indirect lighting and mixed-just-right cocktails, the intimate atmosphere of the plush V.I.P. Lounge, located in the new Mills Square Building, San Mateo, is a "welcome mat" for those seeking moments of relaxation.

Mardi Gras Revue At the Fireside

The Topless "Dixie Belles," an adult show that would even devastate New Orleans, is the newest entertainment extravaganza at San Mateo's Fireside Lounge. Featuring an all-new Topless Revue for 1968, Fireside owners, Jack McRae and Phil Maita, have famed Bourbon Streeter Sammy Blank and his orchestra providing the musical action for the dancing belles. You haven't seen anything until you see Topless antics performed to a Dixieland beat.

Rounding out the Fireside's Mardi Gras action is the after-hours show on Saturday and Sunday mornings, when name recording groups take over the bandstand. It seems most of the action-seekers on the Peninsula show up for the after 2 a.m. coffee sipping, sandwich munching and sound listening.

Apples, Pork Combine Well

Apples and pork are acknowledged as a sound food combination—the fruit acids of the apple balancing the heavy protein of the pork—and provide hearty, good eating for the whole family.

Today's recipe for Apple Pork Loaf is not only savory eating but most economical because three cups of ground meat will serve eight and you can use fresh roast pork in leftovers.

Our second recipe, Apples, Pork Chops and Sweet-Sour Cabbage, browns the chops in the oven, then simmers them with spices and arranges them on a bed of cooked apples, cabbage and onions.

Apples play an important role flavor-wise in both these recipes, so be sure to select a variety like the crisp, spicy red Wine-sap, which holds its flavors and texture under cooking processes.

Incidentally, these late-harvested winesaps which hail from Washington State orchards, are an excellent all-purpose variety, good for eating as is and in salads, and a good choice for all your favorite apple desserts.

Reasonably priced, the Wine-sap is a good keeper so you can buy in quantity and store them in your refrigerator, thus retaining flavor and crispness.

APPLE PORK LOAF

- 1½ cups stale bread crumbs
- ½ cup milk
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 3 cups ground, roast fresh pork
- 2 Washington State apples
- 1 medium sized onion, minced
- ½ tsp. salt
- dash of pepper and thyme
- Pare, core and mince apples. Mix together crumbs, milk and eggs and allow to stand ½ hour. Combine pork, apples and onion, or put through food chopper. Stir in seasonings and soaked crumbs and pack into loaf pan 8x5x3 inches. Bake in moderate 350-degree oven about 35 minutes. Serves 8.

APPLES, PORK CHOPS AND SWEET-SOUR CABBAGE

- 8 pork chops, cut thick (1")
- 3 whole cloves
- ½ tsp. thyme

Soy Sauce Gives Veal New Flavor

In cool weather it's nice to have a really good entree recipe that will satisfy the heartiest of appetites. Home economists have created this special dish that is easy to prepare, yet high in appetite appeal.

Since Oriental foods have become so popular, homemakers have taken to incorporating some of the more adaptable Chinese ingredients into favorite Occidental dishes. So, how about turning your food budgeting talents to this delightful main dish having exotic overtones.

This recipe from test kitchens for veal in mushroom olive sauce is a fine example of modern use of Chinese ingredients. This superb main dish idea gets its flavor flippancy from tangy soy sauce.

Veal in Mushroom Olive Sauce

- 1-lb. veal steak, cut in 1-inch cubes
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- ¼ teaspoon crushed marjoram
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1 small onion, sliced thinly
- 1 can (4-oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups skim milk
- ½ teaspoon seasoning salt
- 2 teaspoons soy sauce
- 1 can (1-lb.) bean sprouts, rinsed and drained
- ½ cup sliced ripe olives
- Chow Mein noodles
- Combine 1 tablespoon flour, salt, pepper, paprika and marjoram. Sprinkle over veal; toss lightly with a fork. Brown in butter. Add onion and mushrooms; cover and cook for 15 minutes. Stir in flour. Gradually stir in skim milk. Add seasoning salt and soy sauce. Cook over medium heat until slightly thickened. Cover and simmer for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in bean sprouts and ripe olives, just before serving. Heat until hot. Serve on chow mein noodles.

Nutcracker For Stuffer

A handsome nut cracker plus a supply of fresh, in-the-shell California walnuts makes a thoughtful gift to take to your dinner party hostess or as a stocking stuffer for father.

Cover Your Rolling Pin

When cookie dough is rich, always roll a small amount at one time and use a prepared pastry cloth and a cloth-covered rolling pin.

Here's New Recipe for Virginia Ham

Rene Verdon has created a new recipe for Virginia ham.

Verdon served as chef to the late President John F. Kennedy and President Lyndon B. Johnson and now is culinary consultant to the Hamilton Beach division of Scovill Manufacturing Company. He said Virginia ham fixed in this manner is especially suited to party entertaining.

VIRGINIA HAM A LA VERDON

- 1 (14-16 pound) Virginia ham
- 2 onions sliced
- 2 carrots, sliced
- 1 stalk of celery, diced
- 1 bay leaf

- 1 teaspoon thyme
- Quartered apricots or peaches (about 12 whole apricots)
- Whole cloves
- 1 cup brown sugar or molasses

Prepare Virginia ham according to packer's instructions. After soaking, place ham (skin side down) in a large steam kettle. Simmer about 15 minutes per pound.

When simmering time is completed, take ham out of the water; allow to cool. Remove the skin by lifting the skin around the edge of the butt (large) end with a sharp knife. With a clean cloth in each hand, grasp the hock bone in one hand and, starting at the butt end, pull the skin toward the hock, being careful not to tear the fat. Leave four inches of skin on the hock bone. Dress the skin around the hock bone with a knife.

Place prepared ham in large roasting pan. Spread a layer of onion, carrot, and celery around ham and season with bay leaf and a sprinkle of thyme.

With a sharp knife, cut a diamond pattern in ham fat. Decorate crown of ham with quartered apricots or peaches secured with a whole clove. Cover ham with brown sugar or molasses. Roast at 375 degrees until ham is glazed and heated through.

Remove ham from roasting pan and place in covered pan to keep hot. Brown the vegetables and add:

- 1 cup vinegar
- 2 quarts brown sauce
- ¼ cup Sherry wine

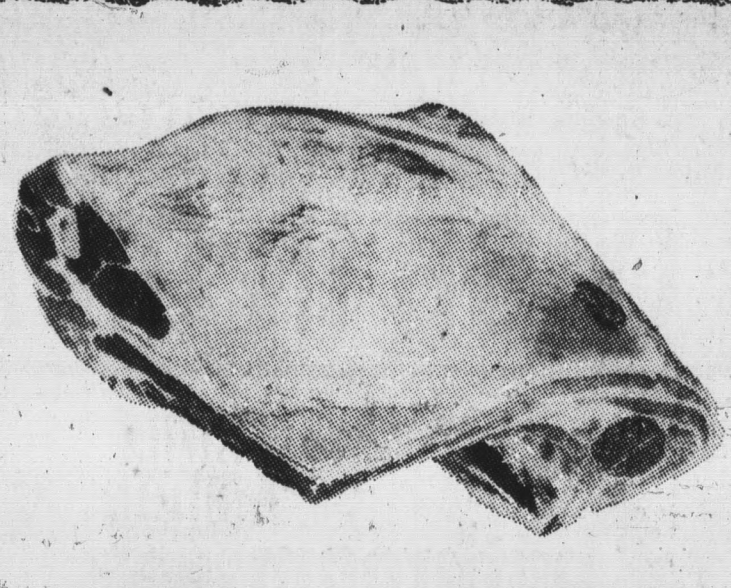

Cook slowly over medium heat for ten minutes. Strain and skim off grease. Serve hot in sauce bowl with ham.

Luxury Found Under $1,000

Boats with luxury features, more space and safety, and priced well under $1,000 have been unveiled for the first time by some of the top boat makers at the San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show, January 12 through 21 at the Cow Palace.

Just a few of the nifty newcomers include Glasspar's 14 ft. Marathon outboard, redesigned for '68 with many large-boat features including mechanical steering, sun lounge seats, wood-grained dash, vinyl interior and many more assets — for just $895.

Crestliner's 12 ft. Sportsman, priced at only $215, is the ideal boat for youngsters. It weighs only 120 lbs. and will carry 575 lbs. of motor, people and gear. The new Larson 14 ft. Shark 142 is perfect for scuba divers. It comes complete with gear, back-to-back seats, walk-through dash, front deck compartment storage and side storage paneling, all for $645.

Glastron's brawny 1968 Fish 'n' Ski, a 14 footer, has lots of room for fishing and family fun. Ample storage space includes fiber-glassed rod racks beneath the gunwale and fiberglass bait or ice wells under the center seats. Price tag here is $599.

Aluma Craft's F-7, a $359 fishing boat with 26-inch deep hull and fine bow to keep safe and dry, will carry four people and a 28 horsepower motor.

There will be many other lines in the same price range, in addition to the large luxury cruisers and sailboats which will be displayed for the first time in '68.

Doors will be open during the ten-day event daily from 2 to 11 p.m., Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. and Sundays from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Quick Brunch With Steaks

Quickly pan fry juicy minute steaks and serve on toasted English muffins for elegant brunch.

Top each steak with a perfectly poached egg and Bearnaise sauce. A sprig of holly adds a festive note to each plate.

Add Ginger To Pork Chops

Coating pork chops with seasoned flour before frying? Add a little ground ginger to the seasoned flour.

Houseboat Is 'Eye-Stopper'

Versatile houseboats of every size and description are exhibited at the ten-day San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show, January 12-21 at the Cow Palace.

More popular than ever, houseboats are displayed by many of the top builders of water craft, and the largest number ever exhibited at the San Francisco show are seen at the Cow Palace this year.

Among the eye-stoppers will be the luxurious 42-foot Water House, called the floating mansion, with floor plans available in six-, eight- or ten-sleeper models.

The Queen of Kayot's pontoon fleet, the 81-foot Capri VII houseboat, is making its boat show debut at the Cow Palace exposition. The Capri VII has berth space for six, a completely equipped galley and can cruise independent of shore facilities for days.

Aqua-line's 36-footer is a houseboat designed to take the open waters, as well as waters of the delta and lake areas, and is fast enough to pull skiers.

Others here displayed include the new SS Suwanee 47 by Kenner Boat Co., Aquatic's 36-foot, Boatel's 38- and 20-foot models and many more.

All that's new in cruisers, sailboats, rubber boats, fishing, hunting and camping gear will be displayed in this year's exposition, the first national boat show in the country for 1968. Show times are 2-11 p.m., daily; 11 a.m. to 11 p.m., Saturdays; and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., Sundays.

To thaw frozen condensed soup, place unopened can in hot water for 30 minutes.

Chameleon Line Helps Fool the Fish

There are many new features and innovations introduced among the fishing tackle exhibits at the San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show, January 12 through 21 at the Cow Palace, the first national show in the country for 1968.

Wright and McGill Company, makers of Eagle Claw glass rods, here display its new six-piece Trailmaster pack rods. These rods are specially built to fit any popular 15-inch tackle box and are guaranteed for life.

The newest model of the Lowrance Fish Lo-K-Tor will be demonstrated at the show. This new unit is battery-operated and can locate a single fish or an entire school to a depth of 300 feet.

Daiwa is displaying its new monofilament line containing chemical reagents which absorb rather than reflect rays of light, thus making the line invisible to the unsuspecting fish. The line also changes color, chameleon-style, to match its environment.

Shakespeare is featuring the new Shakespeare-Joe Foss products, including the new push-button reel and matching wonder rod and the Joe Foss Junior matching set (Foss is a World War II ace, former governor of South Dakota and American Football League commissioner.)

All that's new in sailboats, cruisers, rubber and inflatable boats, canoes, rowboats, ski equipment, fishing, hunting, camping and vacation ideas will be unveiled at the ten-day show.

Show times are from 2-11 p.m., daily; 11 a.m. to 11 p.m., Saturdays; and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., Sundays.

Controls For Boats, Dogs Exhibited

Controls for both boats and dogs are exhibited along with the displays of luxury cruisers, sailboats, fishing, camping and hunting gear at the San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show, January 12-21 at the Cow Palace.

For the boating enthusiast, Morse controls will display and demonstrate its new single lever control, which makes the novice skipper perform like a pro. This attractive looking top-mounted marine engine control offers the ultimate in convenience and safety by combining the clutch and throttle operations into a single lever.

In addition, Morse is showing the new fully automatic converter-charger which keeps the cruiser's batteries fully charged at peak power while dockside, even though lights, radio, refrigerator, bilge pump and other electrical equipment are operated off shipboard power.

Hunters will also have the opportunity to see how their hunting dogs may be trained through the Ability Training Method at the show. This control training method includes the use of an Ability Training Collar used on the dog and an Ability Transmitter used by the trainer.

There are hundreds of accessories and all types of sports gear displayed, including almost every conceivable item that can be used by boating, fishing and hunting enthusiasts during the ten-day Sports and Boat Show engagement.

Show times are 2-11 p.m., daily; 11 a.m. to 11 p.m., Saturdays; and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., Sundays.

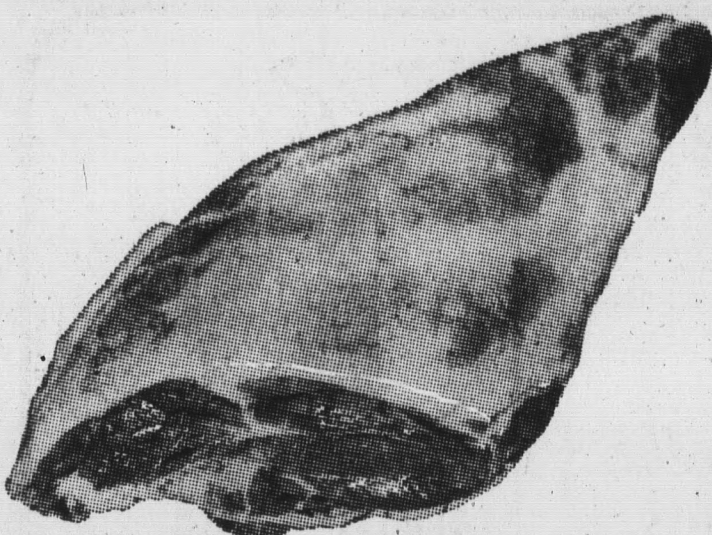

Boat Show Fleet Queen

Queen of all the boat shows in America, Tollycraft's super-luxurious 50-foot "Discoverer," a $110,000 beauty, is leading the fleet of hundreds of new boats coming to the Cow Palace for the San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show, January 12 through 21.

The Discoverer is the largest and most expensive boat ever to be displayed in any show in the country.

Boats coming into the New York Show must ride the Coliseum's 45-foot long elevator, which automatically precludes anything larger, noted Thomas R. Rooney, managing director of the San Francisco show, and Chicago simply doesn't have the market for a vessel of this size.

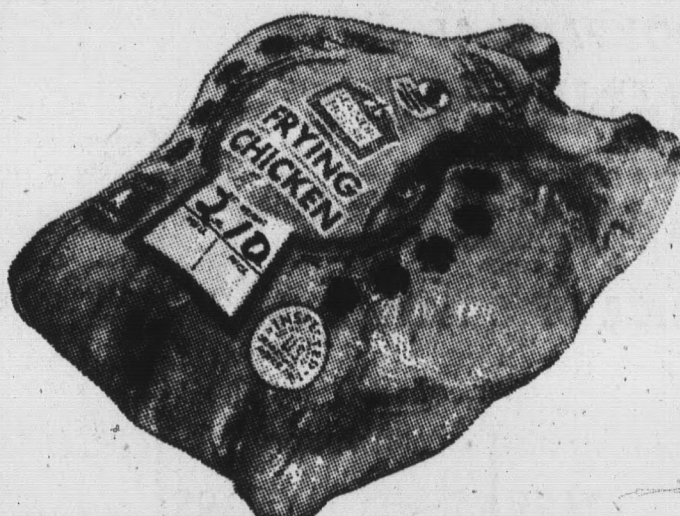

To accommodate the magnificent cruiser, over $8,000 was spent to heighten the loading doors at the rear of the Cow Palace. With the alterations, the 16-foot high Discoverer will slip into the arena with three inches of clearance.
